Manager or Politician?

(An Editorial)

Oscar V. Newkirk, who is seeking re-election as Mayor of the City of Kingston, is one of the most conscientious public servants to hold public office in this or any other city. This outstanding characteristic was recognized two years ago following his first term of office when he again was the choice of the people.

Upon assuming office two years ago, Mayor Newkirk made a pledge to the citizens of this city and that was to continue to try and do a good job. No one can dispute the fact that he always has been on the job, applying himself day and night to a solution of our city's problems.

When an acceptable chief executive of a city can attend to his job without having to spend his time figuring out ways and schemes at the taxpayers' expense and also his spare time in rounding up votes, he is doing something which unfortunately is not done in administering the nation's business.

There is a certain profit in keeping a conscientious public servant in office. This is not unprecedented, for in many cities, mayors who have worked diligently and faced situations honestly and courageously have been returned to office for many years with good results to the community.

Mayor Newkirk has a perfect right to be proud of his record as a public servant. He has a right to look back over his work of the past two years. He acknowledged then that the financial situation of the city was in such condition that we could not accomplish some things that we all wanted to do.

His record shows that he acted accordingly and consistently and constantly. This took great courage and profound sincerity. A politician might have acted otherwise, but a business manager would have made the same decisions Mayor Newkirk was compelled to do. The taxpayers are too heavily burdened as it is. They couldn't afford some additional worthwhile projects because of rising costs.

Mayor Newkirk comes before the people not as a politician, but as a manager. We believe the taxpayers will continue him as the mayor of their city.

Marines in Copter Raid on Stronghold

Charge Band of 150 Communists After Landing on Hilltop of Mountain Fortress in Korea

U. S. 8th Army Headquarters, Korea, Nov. 1 (AP)—U. S. marines successfully raided a Red Korean guerrilla stronghold behind United Nations lines in the first true helicopter combat attack ever made, the marines announced today.

The attack was made Saturday. The news was withheld until today for security reasons.

The announcement came as light snow and cold rain chilled combat troops along the battle fronts. The quiet was shattered during the night by a thundering 100-ton B-29 bomb raid.

33 Volunteers Make Strike

Thirty-three volunteers made the flying marine raid. Two helicopters carried them seven miles over jagged North Korean mountains to the guerrillas' mountain fortress.

The airborne raiders landed on a mountain top. They hid in the wild peaks and struck the next day.

Under cover of a frosty ground haze they charged three huts, headquarters of a band of 150 North Korean Reds operating from a mountain hideout.

In the subsequent fight, a spokesman said, the Marines "believe they broke up this stronghold."

Twice before First Division Marines have used their 'copters to ferry infantrymen to the front line. But never before have the flying windmills actually carried troops into action.

Becomes Quiet

The ground war dwindled to "the quietest damn thing we've had in a long time," a briefing officer said at noon Thursday.

Night flying B-29's from Okinawa and Japan blasted Communist frontline troops with 400 big air-bursting bombs.

The bombers struck their heaviest blow on the central front. There seven Superforts from Okinawa ripped open Chinese bunkers in the rugged hills north of Kumhwa with 70 tons of bombs. The blasts touched off 30 secondary explosions. Pilots said several

Might Not Mean End To Shooting

Might Have to Negotiate All Over Again, if Battle Line Undergoes Change

Kaesong Is Key

Both Would Control Former Site of Truce Talks

Munsan, Korea, Nov. 1 (AP)—A United Nations briefing officer said tonight the allies and Reds are in "general agreement" on the eastern half of a neutral zone for a Korean armistice.

The western half of the line is in dispute. The key issue is who will get Red-held Kaesong, where truce talks started July 10.

Negotiators are "nearer to agreement on a buffer zone than ever before," said Lt. Col. L. G. Hill, the briefing officer.

But he emphasized agreement on the zone would not end the shooting. Hill said:

"There is a possibility the war will go on for a long time afterward."

The buffer zone is only the first point of a proposed armistice. If the battle line changes substantially after an agreement is reached on a buffer zone, Hill said, it probably would have to be negotiated all over again.

Red China's Peiping radio said the Reds' new proposal contains "the greatest possible concession" the Communists can make on a buffer zone.

Were in Agreement

Hill said that at the close of three hours of talks in Panmunjom today UN and Red subcommittees were in "general agreement" on where a demilitarized zone should run from Kumhwa to the east coast of Korea.

Kumhwa is the right anchor of the old Red Iron Triangle. It is 55 air miles from the east coast in the approximate center of the battleline.

Both sides are basing their proposals for a buffer zone generally on the battle line.

Peiping radio said the proposed dividing line between the two armies starts on the east coast 10 miles southeast of Kosong at a point 37 miles north of the 38th Parallel; runs 6.2 miles south of Kumsong and 2.5 miles northwest of Kumhwa.

Allied troops are on the outskirts of Kosong and about three miles south of Kumsong. Their exact distance north of Kumhwa has not been announced.

Subcommittees Differ

Hill said the subcommittees differed over where the line should run from Kumhwa to the Kaesong sector and added:

"The United Nations Command fought hard battles to get this area. I don't think it would be willing to give up much of it."

Biggest argument is over Kaesong itself. Each side wants this former site of armistice negotiations. The town, now in Red territory, is just south of 38.

The Peiping broadcast said the western half of the proposed Red lines run from the Kumhwa sector to 6.2 miles northwest of Chorwon, western anchor of the old iron triangle; 7.4 miles northeast of Choksong. It then drops southwest passing .6 mile west of Panmunjom, present truce site. It would end at the mouth of the Imjin river 12.1 miles southeast of Kaesong.

Hill said that in Thursday's sessions allied negotiators got a full understanding of the Reds' "last and best proposal" for a demilitarized zone.

"Each side," he said, "tried to convince the other side its proposal was the correct proposal.

"The Communists are approaching the military realities. This is because of the strength of the United Nations Command in comparison with the strength of the Communists."

Hill implied that the Red negotiators had no choice but to give in the UN delegation on many military points.

They scheduled the ninth meeting of their subcommittees at Panmunjom for 11 a. m. Friday (9 p. m. Thursday, E.S.T.).

Troops Exposed To Atomic Blast Minus Casualties

FurtherArmyParticipation Is Not Expected in Desert—Shakes Las Vegas

Las Vegas, Nev., Nov. 1 (AP)—U. S. Army troops were exposed today to an atomic blast for the first time, and came off without casualties and with knowledge which may prove "greater than anticipated."

Official confirmation of the troop's participation in today's blast, which was so strong that it cracked store windows in this city more than 75 miles away, came from Maj. Gen. William B. Kean, commanding the army's Third Corps.

Another army spokesman, declining to be quoted by name, said "this is the one test in which troops will be involved." This was taken to indicate that the army is satisfied with what it learned and will not participate in further AEC experiments here.

The blast went off at 7:30 a. m. (P.S.T.) and sent a giant white cloud mushrooming over the Yucca flat test center in the desert northwest of here.

Rocked by Concussion

Seven minutes later Las Vegas was rocked by the concussion. Police switchboards were flooded with calls from anxious residents, some of whom described the rattling jar as stronger than in a series of atomic tests last winter.

Windows were broken in at least three stores on downtown Fremont street, and the AEC quickly posted notices saying residents suffering damage could file claims.

The text of General Kean's announcement of the army phase of the experiments follows:

"Army combat troops and service troops, together with a large number of military observers representing the army, navy and marine corps, participated today in a nuclear detonation.

Involves Observation

"This participation involved observation of the detonation, observation of the effects on test items and equipment, and observation of psychological and physiological reaction.

"There were no casualties and no injuries to any of the personnel involved as a result of the detonation.

"This first step toward military tactical employment of the nuclear weapon was most success-

Upstate Storm Brings One Death

Young Woman Is Killed on Slippery Road —Traffic Snarled

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 1 (AP)—A surprise snowstorm struck most of New York state today and resulted in the death of a young woman in a highway accident.

It was the first substantial snowstorm of the season in this state.

The depth of the fall ranged from a trace in Buffalo and Rochester to more than two inches in open country.

The storm blew in from the southern Appalachians just before dawn.

The snow was wet and made streets and highways treacherously slippery. In some communities, going-to-work traffic was tied up in weird snarls.

Halloween Proves Not Too Costly to Property Owners

Some Maliciousness Is Reported in County and City—Police Forces Active

Halloween mischief in the city summed up today as generally less destructive than in many former years but the fire department was kept busy from 3:51 p. m., yesterday until 3:39 a. m., today with 32 alarms.

Of 11 false alarms, 10 were sounded from boxes in various parts of the city and one was a still alarm. The department received 20 telephone calls for fires in leaves and one call at 8:50 p. m., for a fire in a car owned by James Becker, of 49 Hasbrouck avenue, at Foxhall and Hasbrouck avenues. The blaze, of unknown origin, badly damaged the car.

Shots, Stones Through Windows

Among the more serious incidents reported to the police was a shot fired through a pane of glass at 507 Delaware avenue at 8:45 p. m. A rock was reported thrown through a window at 17 Sharon Lane, early last night, and some time during the night the top of a car was cut and its license plates painted on Stuyvesant street.

Other mischief included the cutting and stealing of clothes lines, the inevitable soaping and waxing of windows and the burning of leaves piled by curbs. A mail box was dumped into the street at

Princess Places Wreath at Tomb

Couple Also Takes Trip to Mount Vernon; Day Is Gloomy

Washington, Nov. 1 (AP)—Princess Elizabeth today placed a wreath on the tomb of George Washington, the man who played a major role in taking this country out of the British Empire.

It was a simple ceremony. Elizabeth and Philip, the Duke of Edinburgh, took the wreath and walked alone with it into the tomb. They placed it against the back wall.

When they came out, Philip turned, faced the tomb, and saluted.

Like any other visiting tourists, the couple then inspected Mount Vernon, the plantation home where the father of this country spent his last days.

Britain's "Fairy Princess," as President Truman called her, and her handsome husband were accompanied by Miss Margaret Truman.

It was a gloomy day. It had been raining and overcast clouds held the threat of still more rain. A chill wind blew.

Nevertheless, a sizeable crowd was waiting on the sidewalk across the street from the Blair House when the royal couple left the presidential residence at 10:05 a. m.

The princess and Miss Truman wore heavy coats. The duke wore a naval uniform.

There was polite handclapping and ooh's and ah's—the latter mostly from bobby-soxers and apparently in admiration of the handsome Philip.

Mt. Vernon lies 15 miles down the Potomac river from Washington, on the Virginia side. For many years it has been maintained as a monument and showplace.

Several hundred persons had gathered there.

Dollar Haircut Starts Tuesday

The dollar haircut will become a reality in Kingston, effective Tuesday, Nov. 6.

Members of Local 534 of the barber's union voted unanimously last night to boost the price of haircuts from the prevailing rate of 85 cents to one dollar, President Michael Amato announced today.

Another meeting of the union has been called for Wednesday, Nov. 7, at which time the barbers will consider price increases for various other tonsorial items.

Truck Hits House On Hasbrouck Ave.

Vehicle Starts Off on Own as Driver Reports It Inoperative

Hasbrouck avenue, scene of a damaging truck mishap last February 7, had another as potentially dangerous last night when a runaway truck owned by Dearstyne Brothers, of Albany, crashed into the house of Grover Haley, 65, at 266 Hasbrouck avenue.

The vehicle, which had been parked near the top of the hill, backed across the street, and headed down the hill while the driver, William Braman, of Albany, had left it to make a telephone call, police said.

After demolishing a front porch on the Haley house, the truck crashed into its front room near a window and came to rest partly inside the structure. It damaged the ceiling and wall, a radio and other furniture.

The runaway truck last February, owned by Dorn's Express, Rensselaer, was driven by Charles F. Jacobs, 30, of Poughkeepsie, who stayed with it until it crashed into a building owned by Jules Miron on Ferry street, near the end of Hasbrouck avenue, after missing city buses, pedestrians and other vehicles. Jacobs was injured, but not critically.

A police report at 6:07 p. m., on last night's accident, said the truck had been left parked on Hasbrouck avenue facing toward Delaware avenue, when it started its runaway trip down the hill.

Grover Haley was sitting in the kitchen of the house at the time reading a newspaper. Mrs. Haley said he suffered shock as a re-

U. S. Will Allocate Beef for Services; No Civilian Cut

DiSalle Says Order Will Not Disrupt Domestic Supply in 1952

Washington, Nov. 1 (AP) — The government said today that federally-inspected slaughterers will be ordered next month to set aside part of their beef for the armed services.

Price Director Michael DiSalle said this is necessary because the armed services face a severe meat shortage.

Under the plan the slaughterers will have to give priority to the armed services when their kill exceeds a specified percentage of their 1950 volume.

The setaside will be made up of the three top grades of beef—prime, choice and good.

Office of Price Stabilization officials said the order is not expected to bring any disruption of the meat supply for civilians.

The Office of Price Stabilization will set a percentage of the 1950 slaughter each month. Beef killed in excess of this amount must be made available to the army, which buys meat for all the services.

Currently the need for beef for the services is so pressing that the army wants to buy 56 million pounds for immediate use and to build up its dwindling reserves.

Serious Halloween Blast

Pittsburgh, Nov. 1 (AP)—A gala Halloween celebration turned into terror last night as four gas explosions injured 29 persons and cast flaming debris over hundreds of parading mummers and spectators. Twenty of the injured were taken to hospitals but nine were released later. Three are reported in critical condition from burns and cuts. Fire Chief James T. Coslett said a broken gas main in Max Davidson's confectionery store set off the explosions. They were felt four blocks away. Coslett estimated property damage at $20,000.

Stang Says Supervisors Run County Economically

Phone Company Bids for Increase

Goes to Commission With Request—Asks Full Reconsideration

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 1 (AP)—The New York Telephone Company came back to the State Public Service Commission today for permission to increase its rates by unspecified millions of dollars a year.

The PSC rejected on Oct. 4 the phone company's bid for a $57,000,000-a-year rate increase but indicated it would reconsider if Congress increased corporation taxes.

In asking the commission to "reconsider in full its case for additional revenues to meet higher costs," the company noted that Congress had voted to increase federal income taxes, which also covered corporations.

Taxes Are Cited

Although asking for no specific increases, the telephone company said it needed more than $10,000,000 a year "to meet the new taxes alone."

Moreover, the company added, it currently is negotiating with labor unions on basic wage rates.

The company, which has 5,500,000 telephone subscribers, provides service in most of New York state. About 4,000,000 of its customers are in New York city and on Long Island.

The commission granted the company an 11 per cent increase in May, 1950. That was estimated to produce an extra $48,500,000 annually.

It was the company's first rate increase in 20 years.

Praises Way Board Is Handling Business as Costs Are Going Up

Addressing the voters of this area in a radio talk last night, County Attorney Fred Stang said to the property owners in Kingston, "if your tax bill is higher than a previous year, it can well be that the increase was due in part to a higher county budget."

Citing that the city pays "about one third of the total cost of county government," Stang enumerated the various items and projects confronting the Board of Supervisors, which, he emphasized is "fully aware" that economy is a primary factor.

Stang discussed wages, increased costs of operation, the various services rendered by county agencies, and in referring to the good system of roads noted that "unfortunately our country highway program suffered a severe setback as a result of floods last fall and winter which damaged our highways and bridges, amounting to upwards of $500,000".

The schedule of other Republican speeches over WKNY is: Tonight at 8 o'clock, Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk; Friday at 7:30 p. m. Joseph Kelly, alderman-at-large; Monday, 8 p. m. Senator Arthur H. Wicks, Republican county chairman in the closing address of the campaign.

Stang's speech last night was as follows:

Every two years each of the 20 towns outside the city of Kingston, and the 13 wards within the city, elect a supervisor. This group of 33 is known as the Board of Supervisors and is the legislative or governing body of the county.

The primary duties of the Board of Supervisors is to formulate policy, enact local laws on purely local matters, that are not inconsistant with state policy, fix salaries of all county offices and employes, except members of the judiciary, which is left exclusively to the State Legislature, and last and perhaps the most important function is the preparation and adoption of the budget for the fiscal year commencing January 1 and ending December 31.

Many Services Rendered

This budget provides for the many services rendered to the people of the county, including administrative, judicial, health and welfare, highways, and protection of persons and property.

The item for administration includes the salaries of all county offices and employes in all departments except that of highways, and the salary and wages paid to the personnel of that department is paid from the money raised for highway purposes.

With respect to salaries and

Council Says Truman Works Disservice To Nation Naming Vatican Ambassador

New York, Nov. 1 (AP)—The policy-making board of America's largest Protestant group says President Truman has done "a grave disservice to our country" in nominating an ambassador to the Vatican.

The general board of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. said in a statement yesterday:

"Only a prompt withdrawal or rejection of the President's proposal can save this country from a most unfortunate and unnecessary controversy with reactions that will be cumulative as the issue becomes more widely recognized."

The board's request that Mr. Truman withdraw or the Senate reject the nomination was made at an emergency session.

The statement, disclaiming any religious prejudice, protested what it termed "an alarming threat to basic American principles."

It called the nomination "wrong in principle, useless in practice, and * * * disastrous to the national unity of the American people."

The board's statement did not mention the name of Gen. Mark W. Clark, whose nomination as ambassador to the Vatican was sent to the Senate by President Truman on Oct. 20. Congress adjourned that same day without action on the nomination.

The National Council's board authorized the council's president, presiding Episcopal Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill, to appoint a committee to carry out a "program of education" based on the board's statement.

Bishop Sherrill indicated he would announce the committee membership next week. The committee will seek to coordinate Protestant opposition to the ambassadorship.

The board is composed of 125 representatives of 29 Protestant and eastern orthodox churches. It was announced that the 80 officers and members of the board who attended the five-hour special session approved the statement unanimously.

Another development on the issue came yesterday in Gary, Ind., where the American Council of

CIO Has Plan to Settle Tiffs Before They End in Walkouts

New York, Nov. 1 (AP)—The CIO has devised a plan for settling its own inter-union disputes before they explode into crippling jurisdictional walkouts.

The executive board, representing 41 unions affiliated with the CIO, has uanimously approved an elaborate plan for settling differences as they arise between member unions over organizing new groups of workers.

CIO President Philip Murray told reporters yesterday the program, which ends with arbitration by a permanent peacemaker, would not "unscramble any omelets" now in existence.

Present jurisdictions would be respected. But new controversies would be put through the machinery, starting with local mediation efforts, then intervention by Allan S. Haywood, director of organization and—as a last resort—the arbitrator whose rulings would be final.

Proposed for that job is Dr. Frank P. Graham, former U. S. senator and now head of the Defense Manpower Administration in the Labor Department.

He has just completed a special United Nations assignment to mediate the border controversy between India and Pakistan over Kashmir.

Murray said it might be a part-time job. Thirty-four CIO unions signed up immediately and the seven others will do so when their executive boards or conventions meet to act on it.

The CIO's national convention, beginning next Monday, will hear about the action but will have no vote on it.

The CIO chief said there never

Halloween Proves Not Too Costly to Property Owners

Some Maliciousness Is Reported in County and City—Police Forces Active

Halloween mischief in the city summed up today as generally less destructive than in many former years but the fire department was kept busy from 3:51 p. m., yesterday until 3:39 a. m., today with 32 alarms.

Of 11 false alarms, 10 were sounded from boxes in various parts of the city and one was a still alarm. The department received 20 telephone calls for fires in leaves and one call at 8:50 p. m., for a fire in a car owned by James Becker, of 49 Hasbrouck avenue, at Foxhall and Hasbrouck avenues. The blaze, of unknown origin, badly damaged the car.

Shots, Stones Through Windows

Among the more serious incidents reported to the police was a shot fired through a pane of glass at 507 Delaware avenue at 8:45 p. m. A rock was reported thrown through a window at 17 Sharon Lane, early last night, and some time during the night the top of a car was cut and its license plates painted on Stuyvesant street.

Other mischief included the cutting and stealing of clothes lines, the inevitable soaping and waxing of windows and the burning of leaves piled by curbs. A mail box was dumped into the street at

Princess Places Wreath at Tomb

Couple Also Takes Trip to Mount Vernon; Day Is Gloomy

Washington, Nov. 1 (AP)—Princess Elizabeth today placed a wreath on the tomb of George Washington, the man who played a major role in taking this country out of the British Empire.

It was a simple ceremony. Elizabeth and Philip, the Duke of Edinburgh, took the wreath and walked alone with it into the tomb. They placed it against the back wall.

When they came out, Philip turned, faced the tomb, and saluted.

Like any other visiting tourists, the couple then inspected Mount Vernon, the plantation home where the father of this country spent his last days.

Britain's "Fairy Princess," as President Truman called her, and her handsome husband were accompanied by Miss Margaret Truman.

It was a gloomy day. It had been raining and overcast clouds held the threat of still more rain. A chill wind blew.

Nevertheless, a sizeable crowd was waiting on the sidewalk across the street from the Blair House when the royal couple left the presidential residence at 10:05 a. m.

The princess and Miss Truman wore heavy coats. The duke wore a naval uniform.

There was polite handclapping and ooh's and ah's—the latter mostly from bobby-soxers and apparently in admiration of the handsome Philip.

Mt. Vernon lies 15 miles down the Potomac river from Washington, on the Virginia side. For many years it has been maintained as a monument and showplace.

Several hundred persons had gathered there.

Dollar Haircut Starts Tuesday

The dollar haircut will become a reality in Kingston, effective Tuesday, Nov. 6.

Members of Local 534 of the barber's union voted unanimously last night to boost the price of haircuts from the prevailing rate of 85 cents to one dollar, President Michael Amato announced today.

Another meeting of the union has been called for Wednesday, Nov. 7, at which time the barbers will consider price increases for various other tonsorial items.

Truck Hits House On Hasbrouck Ave.

Hasbrouck avenue, scene of a damaging truck mishap last February 7, had another as potentially dangerous last night when a runaway truck owned by Dearstyne Brothers, of Albany, crashed into the house of Grover Haley, 65, at 266 Hasbrouck avenue.

The vehicle, which had been parked near the top of the hill, backed across the street, and headed down the hill while the driver, William Braman, of Albany, had left it to make a telephone call, police said.

After demolishing a front porch on the Haley house, the truck crashed into its front room near a window and came to rest partly inside the structure. It damaged the ceiling and wall, a radio and other furniture.

The runaway truck last February, owned by Dorn's Express, Rensselaer, was driven by Charles F. Jacobs, 30, of Poughkeepsie, who stayed with it until it crashed into a building owned by Jules Miron on Ferry street, near the end of Hasbrouck avenue, after missing city buses, pedestrians and other vehicles. Jacobs was injured, but not critically.

A police report at 6:07 p. m., on last night's accident, said the truck had been left parked on Hasbrouck avenue facing toward Delaware avenue, when it started its runaway trip down the hill.

U. S. Will Allocate Beef for Services; No Civilian Cut

DiSalle Says Order Will Not Disrupt Domestic Supply in 1952

Washington, Nov. 1 (AP) — The government said today that federally-inspected slaughterers will be ordered next month to set aside part of their beef for the armed services.

Price Director Michael DiSalle said this is necessary because the armed services face a severe meat shortage.

Under the plan the slaughterers will have to give priority to the armed services when their kill exceeds a specified percentage of their 1950 volume.

The setaside will be made up of the three top grades of beef—prime, choice and good.

Office of Price Stabilization officials said the order is not expected to bring any disruption of the meat supply for civilians.

The Office of Price Stabilization will set a percentage of the 1950 slaughter each month. Beef killed in excess of this amount must be made available to the army, which buys meat for all the services.

Currently the need for beef for the services is so pressing that the army wants to buy 56 million pounds for immediate use and to build up its dwindling reserves.

Serious Halloween Blast

Pittsburgh, Nov. 1 (AP)—A gala Halloween celebration turned into terror last night as four gas explosions injured 29 persons and cast flaming debris over hundreds of parading mummers and spectators. Twenty of the injured were taken to hospitals but nine were released later. Three are reported in critical condition from burns and cuts. Fire Chief James T. Coslett said a broken gas main in Max Davidson's confectionery store set off the explosions. They were felt four blocks away. Coslett estimated property damage at $20,000.

Stang Says Supervisors Run County Economically

Phone Company Bids for Increase

Goes to Commission With Request—Asks Full Reconsideration

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 1 (AP)—The New York Telephone Company came back to the State Public Service Commission today for permission to increase its rates by unspecified millions of dollars a year.

The PSC rejected on Oct. 4 the phone company's bid for a $57,000,000-a-year rate increase but indicated it would reconsider if Congress increased corporation taxes.

In asking the commission to "reconsider in full its case for additional revenues to meet higher costs," the company noted that Congress had voted to increase federal income taxes, which also covered corporations.

Taxes Are Cited

Although asking for no specific increases, the telephone company said it needed more than $10,000,000 a year "to meet the new taxes alone."

Moreover, the company added, it currently is negotiating with labor unions on basic wage rates.

The company, which has 5,500,000 telephone subscribers, provides service in most of New York state. About 4,000,000 of its customers are in New York city and on Long Island.

The commission granted the company an 11 per cent increase in May, 1950. That was estimated to produce an extra $48,500,000 annually.

It was the company's first rate increase in 20 years.

Praises Way Board Is Handling Business as Costs Are Going Up

Addressing the voters of this area in a radio talk last night, County Attorney Fred Stang said to the property owners in Kingston, "if your tax bill is higher than a previous year, it can well be that the increase was due in part to a higher county budget."

Citing that the city pays "about one third of the total cost of county government," Stang enumerated the various items and projects confronting the Board of Supervisors, which, he emphasized is "fully aware" that economy is a primary factor.

Stang discussed wages, increased costs of operation, the various services rendered by county agencies, and in referring to the good system of roads noted that "unfortunately our country highway program suffered a severe setback as a result of floods last fall and winter which damaged our highways and bridges, amounting to upwards of $500,000".

The schedule of other Republican speeches over WKNY is: Tonight at 8 o'clock, Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk; Friday at 7:30 p. m. Joseph Kelly, alderman-at-large; Monday, 8 p. m. Senator Arthur H. Wicks, Republican county chairman in the closing address of the campaign.

Stang's speech last night was as follows:

Every two years each of the 20 towns outside the city of Kingston, and the 13 wards within the city, elect a supervisor. This group of 33 is known as the Board of Supervisors and is the legislative or governing body of the county.

The primary duties of the Board of Supervisors is to formulate policy, enact local laws on purely local matters, that are not inconsistant with state policy, fix salaries of all county offices and employes, except members of the judiciary, which is left exclusively to the State Legislature, and last and perhaps the most important function is the preparation and adoption of the budget for the fiscal year commencing January 1 and ending December 31.

Many Services Rendered

This budget provides for the many services rendered to the people of the county, including administrative, judicial, health and welfare, highways, and protection of persons and property.

The item for administration includes the salaries of all county offices and employes in all departments except that of highways, and the salary and wages paid to the personnel of that department is paid from the money raised for highway purposes.

With respect to salaries and

Council Says Truman Works Disservice To Nation Naming Vatican Ambassador

New York, Nov. 1 (AP)—The policy-making board of America's largest Protestant group says President Truman has done "a grave disservice to our country" in nominating an ambassador to the Vatican.

The general board of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. said in a statement yesterday:

"Only a prompt withdrawal or rejection of the President's proposal can save this country from a most unfortunate and unnecessary controversy with reactions that will be cumulative as the issue becomes more widely recognized."

The board's request that Mr. Truman withdraw or the Senate reject the nomination was made at an emergency session.

The statement, disclaiming any religious prejudice, protested what it termed "an alarming threat to basic American principles."

It called the nomination "wrong in principle, useless in practice, and * * * disastrous to the national unity of the American people."

The board's statement did not mention the name of Gen. Mark W. Clark, whose nomination as ambassador to the Vatican was sent to the Senate by President Truman on Oct. 20. Congress adjourned that same day without action on the nomination.

The National Council's board authorized the council's president, presiding Episcopal Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill, to appoint a committee to carry out a "program of education" based on the board's statement.

Bishop Sherrill indicated he would announce the committee membership next week. The committee will seek to coordinate Protestant opposition to the ambassadorship.

The board is composed of 125 representatives of 29 Protestant and eastern orthodox churches. It was announced that the 80 officers and members of the board who attended the five-hour special session approved the statement unanimously.

Another development on the issue came yesterday in Gary, Ind., where the American Council of

CIO Has Plan to Settle Tiffs Before They End in Walkouts

New York, Nov. 1 (AP)—The CIO has devised a plan for settling its own inter-union disputes before they explode into crippling jurisdictional walkouts.

The executive board, representing 41 unions affiliated with the CIO, has uanimously approved an elaborate plan for settling differences as they arise between member unions over organizing new groups of workers.

CIO President Philip Murray told reporters yesterday the program, which ends with arbitration by a permanent peacemaker, would not "unscramble any omelets" now in existence.

Present jurisdictions would be respected. But new controversies would be put through the machinery, starting with local mediation efforts, then intervention by Allan S. Haywood, director of organization and—as a last resort—the arbitrator whose rulings would be final.

Proposed for that job is Dr. Frank P. Graham, former U. S. senator and now head of the Defense Manpower Administration in the Labor Department.

He has just completed a special United Nations assignment to mediate the border controversy between India and Pakistan over Kashmir.

Murray said it might be a part-time job. Thirty-four CIO unions signed up immediately and the seven others will do so when their executive boards or conventions meet to act on it.

The CIO's national convention, beginning next Monday, will hear about the action but will have no vote on it.

The CIO chief said there never

Upstate Storm Brings One Death

Young Woman Is Killed on Slippery Road —Traffic Snarled

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 1 (AP)—A surprise snowstorm struck most of New York state today and resulted in the death of a young woman in a highway accident.

It was the first substantial snowstorm of the season in this state.

The depth of the fall ranged from a trace in Buffalo and Rochester to more than two inches in open country.

The storm blew in from the southern Appalachians just before dawn.

The snow was wet and made streets and highways treacherously slippery. In some communities, going-to-work traffic was tied up in weird snarls.

Unfrozen Prices

Sydney, Australia (AP) — The New South Wales State Government has removed the price freeze order on thousands of goods and services it made July 24. The order had pegged the price of virtually everything at July 18 levels. It had been made to cushion the effect of the August basic wage rise of $1.44 a week. Prices that were controlled before July 18—such as for bread, butter, eggs, rent—remain under control.

Piano-Playing Engineer

Rome (AP)—Earle Arthur Jacklin, a mechanical engineering graduate of Purdue University, has decided that the keyboard is more important than the drafting board. He has just completed three years of study at famed Cherubini Institute in Florence, Italy, where he studied under the GI Bill. He finished World War II as a captain of engineers. He's coming home next month looking for a job teaching piano somewhere in the west.

Unfrozen Prices

Sydney, Australia (AP) — The New South Wales State Government has removed the price freeze order on thousands of goods and services it made July 24. The order had pegged the price of virtually everything at July 18 levels. It had been made to cushion the effect of the August basic wage rise of $1.44 a week. Prices that were controlled before July 18—such as for bread, butter, eggs, rent—remain under control.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Retail food prices hardly budged this week. Shoppers in highly competitive marketing areas found price tags trimmed a little on special offerings by individual stores or chains, but the overall price situation was one of the steadiest in months.

The wholesale food level, on the other hand, continued slowly downward. The Dun & Bradstreet food index, which totes up the wholesale cost of a pound each of 35 foods, easted to a new 1951 low of $6.65, only slightly above the $6.52 of a year ago. At the year's peak last February, it was $7.31.

Fresh and smoked hams appeared to dominate the advertised best buys for week-end shoppers in the meat departments of major chains and independents. Many stores also offered special prices on stewing chickens, fryers and broilers, bacon, small Beltsville turkeys, some veal cuts, grapefruit, oranges and grapes.

One Exception

One notable exception in the generally steady price pattern this week was an increase of 1½ cents a quart for milk in the New York metropolitan area, effective today (Thursday). Milk deliverymen staged a one-day strike last week for wage increases and other benefits, and the Office of Price Stabilization subsequently granted a price boost. Milk dealers had contended they were losing money. It was estimated the increase would cost New Yorkers around $22 million a year.

The Agriculture Department reported that meat production by federally-inspected slaughterers increased 9 per cent last week—one of the few weeks since early summer that saw output higher than a year ago. Cattle slaughter was up sharply in most sections of the country, but continued well below the year-ago level in the middle west.

Market analysts said the pork market showed signs of weakening as hog shipments picked up seasonally. Lower pork prices might bring beef down slightly, too. But with cattle slaughter this year expected to be at a ten-year low, there seemed little chance that any such beef reductions would reach the retail level.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics predicted that food stocks will be big enough to allow even better eating in this country next year. Prospects are good for more poultry, beef, milk, ice cream, fats and oils (except butter), frozen fruits and juices, dried fruits and frozen vegetables, they said, but butter and sweet potatoes probably will decline.

Food Will Cost More

Food probably will cost a little more in 1952 because consumers will be making more money and spending more of it on meals, the BAE report added.

Thanksgiving-time fixings top the November list of most-plentiful foods for thrifty buying, issued by the Agricultural Department. The national list stresses turkeys, cranberries and apples, and includes: Procesed citrus products, raisins, dried prunes, dry beans, cabbage, cauliflower (except in the intermountain area and some southwestern states), pork, canned tuna, frozen whiting and ocean perch fillets, cottage cheese, nonfat dry milk solids, honey, almonds, filberts, and walnuts.

Names Eccles

London, Nov. 1 (AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill chose economist David Eccles today to be minister of works. Eccles, 47, is one of the most outspoken leaders of the young progressive group in the Conservative Party. His new job is one of the lesser ministerial posts. The ministry supervises construction and maintenance of public buildings. His appointment as a minister was the 35th by Churchill since he took office last Friday.

Red Candidate Shot

Parana, Argentina, Nov. 1 (AP)—Rodolfo Ghioldi, Communist candidate for the Argentine presidency, was shot in the lung and seriously wounded during a bomb and gun demonstration to break up a Red political rally here last night. Two men were believed killed and about 10 others wounded in the wild melee.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, NOVEMBER 1, 1951

AMENDMENT NO. 6

This proposal endeavors to deal comprehensively with constitutional debt limits as a whole as well as with situations affecting the City of New York. It aptly has been described as a "package."

The proposed amendment comes as a recommendation of the State Comptroller's Committee on constitutional tax and debt limitations and city-school fiscal relations. This committee was established in 1947, and has carried out extensive research in the formulation of its recommendations. This particular amendment grew out of the committee's investigations of school building needs throughout the state and their relationship to the present debt limitations.

The comptroller's committee discovered that there is a growing need for the construction of additional school facilities, brought on by the sharp increase in the birth rate immediately following World War 2.

The amendment would base municipal debt limits upon a five-year average of full valuation, instead of assessed valuation as at present.

It would lower the debt limit percentages of all counties except Nassau, of all cities of less than 125,000 population and of the towns and villages.

The proposal also would provide for separation of the debt limitation for city purposes and for schools of less than 125,000.

It further would permit exclusion from the time of the contracting of the debt for revenue-producing improvements or services. At present, these cannot be excluded, in whole or part, before construction or operation. The proportion excluded under the proposed amendment would depend on estimated revenues but could not be more than 75 per cent of the debt issued in connection with the revenue-producing facility. After the facility is in actual operation, the amount of debt excluded is to be proportionate to the debt service met from the net revenues.

It would provide authorization except in New York city, to raise taxes outside the tax-limit for capital improvements, without encumbering the debt limit as required at present.

The debt limit of $500 million of new debt of construction and equipment of rapid transit lines of New York City would be excluded.

The changes proposed are designed to enable the localities to meet their capital needs without imposing an unfair burden on the owners of real estate. We believe this amendment should be adopted.

SMALL BUSINESS PROBLEM

Small business has frequently been called the backbone of American industrial might. The valuable work which the small plants did during World War II is unquestioned and the contribution which these businesses make to the communities in which they are located cannot be measured. But it is feared that the present defense effort may lead to a large number of bankruptcies among small firms unless something can be done about it.

There are many small industries which are not geared to make goods vital to the war effort and which it would not be practical to convert. These plants will be largely cut off from many of the materials which they need to operate. Suspension of these industries could mean a good deal of unemployment.

There is hope that some of these industries will be able to find substitutes for materials which must be diverted to the defense effort. The government can help by making sure that defense allotments of materials are no greater than necessary. Every effort should be made to help small industries to survive, for they have played an important role in our industrial progress and they can continue to do so when peaceful goods may again be regarded as the important need of the day.

News of the tax scandals and other official dishonesty make what used to be called the criminal element angry. They feel that it is another instance of the government interfering with private enterprise.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

CRUSADE FOR FREEDOM

I was nearly converted to the "Crusade for Freedom" until I saw their circular "Join the Crusade for Freedom." Then I could not understand why they told a lie.

Let me quote the lie:

"Like the 'V' for victory, the World Freedom Bell has become the symbol of resistance to world tyranny. To the enslaved peoples it means hope. Inscribed on its rim are Abraham Lincoln's words, 'That this world, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom.'"

Abraham Lincoln never said that. The twisted line is taken from the Gettysburg address. Lincoln was speaking about Americans killed in war. He was speaking about our honored dead. He was speaking about this nation.

He was not speaking about Germans, Frenchmen, Turks, Greeks or Koreans. He was not speaking about one world or the United Nations. His concern was over his own countrymen.

This is the paragraph which all Americans of my generation were taught in school to recite:

"It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain—that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom—and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

Now where does this Crusade for Freedom get off twisting the most stirring paragraph of Abraham Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address" into a false meaning?

Lincoln could not have worried about the world having a new birth of freedom, because the whole world has never known anything about freedom. Most of the nations of the world have never experienced freedom. Most of the 2,000,000,000 and more human beings have no conception of what freedom means, and a great part of them even today would fear our concept of freedom. It would terrify them to live in a world where each human being is free to form the pattern of his life.

The people that Abraham Lincoln was talking to were Americans who at that time had been on the continent for about 250 years and who had formed a nation dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. His hope was that a nation so dedicated should not perish from the earth. His countrymen were then engaged in a war among themselves over the nature of the American nation. Gettysburg was the scene of a great battle where some of those killed in this war had been buried. Lincoln came to Gettysburg to partake of the ceremonies of consecrating a burial ground for his countrymen.

The Gettysburg Address has generally been regarded as the most perfect example of American oratory. Every word of it is hallowed in American tradition. To twist a sentence of this address, to inscribe it falsely on a bell to celebrate United Nations Day in Berlin is a desecration of an American tradition and a fraud upon the Germans.

I often wonder who does these stupid things. Certainly, there are plenty of educated Germans who have read the Gettysburg Address. I wonder if the slimy Gerhart Eisler, Soviet propagandist in East Germany, has not countered with a reminder that the inscription on the bell, attributed to Lincoln, was not spoken by Lincoln.

In the same circular, General Eisenhower is quoted as follows:

"In the battle for truth, you and I have a definite part to play through the Crusade for Freedom."

But is it truth to switch Lincoln from a nationalist to an internationalist, from an American to a one worlder?

I make this protest because the evidence is clear in China, Korea, Iran, Egypt, in the British elections and wherever it is possible to gauge public opinion that America is being presented in a false light. Maybe we do not know how to tell our story.

But there is a wonderful American story to tell. For here, over a period of three centuries 50 races of man have learned to live together, in freedom. Here men and women have not feared government but have loved God and in the law of God have found a way of life which was best expressed by Thomas Jefferson in the preamble to the Declaration of Independence.

When some smartaleck substitutes for that glorious story a twisted sentence from Lincoln, I feel impelled to protest and to ask you to protest. We need never lie.

DAILY DOSES OF DIGITALIS

A physician relates an experience that should be a lesson to other physicians and to patients. An old acquaintance came in for an examination, saying that he often wondered about his heart and if it were sound. The physician made the usual tests, found only slight enlargement, no shortness of breath on light exercise and a return to normal rate two minutes after usual exercise test. Although he told the patient that it was safe for him to do light work, he suggested that he return in a month for a check-up. When the patient returned, the physician found irregularity of heart beat, shortness of breath on light exercise, and told the patient to avoid exercise, get an hour's rest in the afternoon and an extra hour at night. He told him that his heart was not in as good shape as on his previous visit and he couldn't understand why.

The patient then admitted that before his previous visit he had been taking 1 grain of digitalis daily for several months and had neglected to tell the physician about it.

I am recounting this story not ony to show that a patient should tell the physician all his previous history as regards treatment by other physicians but, more particularly, to show how the heart can be kept strong and effective by a regular daily dose of digitalis.

At the last scientific session of the American Heart Association, Dr. Joseph G. Benton, New York city, gave an address on heart patients in the performance of tasks or daily living and selected occupational activities as a means of learning just how much work a diseased heart could do and be safe.

A group of 26 normal individuals and a group of 20 with diseased or failing hearts, compensated or kept up to normal strength by digitalis, were compared from standpoint of work—walking on the level or climbing stairs. The exercises were graduated and were performed under standard conditions as to duration and speed. The amount of oxygen that was used by the lungs during the exercise was measured according to the build and weight of each individual.

It was found that a diseased heart, regulated or compensated by digitalis, did not use up any more oxygen than did a normal heart entirely free of disease.

Regular visits to the family physician or heart specialist keep heart patient safe for many years.

They Dream of Home

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—The more you look into the income-tax situation, the more it appears that some U. S. tax collectors, especially those with political pull, regard their jobs as indirect pensions and spend more time on private business than on Uncle Sam's.

Fortunately, there are thousands of nonpolitical internal revenue agents, but here is an illustration of what has been happening at Nashville, Tenn. Investigation of Nashville's Internal Revenue Office so far has concerned three individuals:

1. Lipe Henslee, the suspended collector, who, following an illness a couple of years ago, fell a victim of narcotics. The Narcotics Bureau sent two agents to Tennessee to see where Henslee was getting his drugs, reported that nothing illicit was involved though he is still taking narcotics and not spending sufficient time at his office. This was the reason for Henslee's suspension.

2. Also under investigation is George Welch, Jr., assistant collector, who has been criticized for spending too much time on the affairs of the Washington Realty Company rather than on collecting taxes. The realty company owns three large apartment houses in Nashville, and the company is controlled by Welch's family.

Investigators who checked the case reported that Welch is almost stone deaf, difficult to talk to, with the result that his superiors by-passed him, gave him little work to do. Therefore, he devoted himself to his family's realty firm.

3. Also under investigation is Chief Field Deputy Ira Parker, Jr., whose family is connected with a liquor distributing firm, the National Distributing Company of Clinton, Tenn. The company was organized by Parker's nephew, Kenneth E. Caldwell, and financed by a note for $125,000 at the Commerce Union Bank of Nashville. Underwriting the note are Ted Murray of the Nashville Baseball Club and Joe Parker, brother of the chief field deputy.

What investigators are interested in is whether Ira Parker is or was an owner of any part of the liquor firm. They found an arrangement in the underwriting deal whereby Murray and Ira's brother Joe were cut in on the profits until the $125,000 loan was paid off, plus another provision whereby the loan was never to be entirely paid off, which made his brother a virtual partner. In August, Mrs. Roxie Parker, wife of the deputy collector, acquired a 25 per cent stock ownership in the firm.

It has been reported that Deputy Collector Parker accompanied representatives of the firm on their visits, thus bringing indirect pressure to increase the company's business. Caldwell, when questioned, denied this.

"Ira was down here on a visit and just happened to accompany me," he explained.

Politics and Taxes

Washington internal revenue executives say they feel sorry for Messrs. Henslee and Welch because of their physical infirmities. However, it's admitted that the government budget, already one of the biggest in history, should not be overloaded by paying salaries to those who cannot give full time to their jobs.

Note 1—The three above-mentioned collectors got their jobs through Sen. Kenneth McKellar, who, as chairman of the Appropriations Committee, is one of the most powerful—and irascible—members of Congress. To fire one of his appointees would mean bringing the well-known McKellar wrath down on the entire Internal Revenue Bureau and probably curtailing its budget. Hence McKellar's friends stay on the payroll whether they work or not.

Note 2—What our tax-collecting system needs is to have collectors appointed by civil service, not politics, and then rotate them to different cities after they have lived ten years in a community. After collectors have made too many friends they lose their effectiveness.

Friendly Senator—Sen. Olin Johnston of South Carolina believes that a friend is a friend. He has just demanded a Senate investigation of Puerto Rican Governor Munoz Marin's administration—all because of friendship. Olin's friend is not Governor Marin, but Leonard Long of Charleston, S. C., from whom the governor is trying to collect one million dollars in taxes. Inside story is that Long has been mass-producing houses in Puerto Rico. He was promised tax exemptions on the housing by former Gov. Jesus Penero, but the new governor has now filed suit to collect. So Long's friend, Senator Johnston, wants Governor Marin investigated.

British Admirals—A secret State Department report blames the British admiralty for the crisis in Iran. The British admirals controlled the Abadan refinery, but were too blind to grant the Iranians a few small concessions. For example, the admirals charged the Iranians the full price for gasoline used in Iran, plus the cost of freight from the Caribbean. In other words, the Iranians had to pay a phony freight rate, even though the gasoline came from their own wells and was never shipped. The admirals also refused to allow Iranians to examine the books or sit on the board of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

Health Drive—The American Legion and other vet groups will get behind a physical-fitness program to counteract the heavy rejection of draft 4-F's—now running better than 60 per cent in some big cities. The program is spearheaded by Congressman E. H. Hedrick of West Virginia, a doctor and long-time crusader for more outdoor exercise and better diet education to improve civilian health. President Truman has privately okayed the idea. Also, the Miami Beach Chamber of Commerce has offered to make Miami Beach the national headquarters for the health drive—if Hedrick can get a bill through Congress.

Washington Pipeline

GOP Sen. Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska is mending after an operation at George Washington University Hospital, where he paid the full rate instead of accepting the cut-rate accommodations for congressmen at Bethesda Naval Hospital . . . Wherry also scorns congressional junkets, pays wherever he goes . . . another congressman who pays his own way is Jarman of Oklahoma, Democrat. He is going to Korea at his own expense . . . The Bonner Committee, incidentally, has now decided to go to Korea for an important investigation . . . Jovial Congressman Donald O'Toole of Brooklyn was commenting on the trials of big-city congressmen in a campaign year. "Everybody wants to get into the act," mourned O'Toole. "Sometimes it's a little gruesome. If I even sneeze, at least ten guys file for my congressional seat, hoping I'll catch pneumonia." . . . It's standing room only in Washington theatres for "The Day the Earth Stood Still"—despite the fact that Elmer Davis, Hans Kaltenborn, Gabriel Heatter and DP play a small part in it . . . Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston will not be replaced. Mobilization Boss Charles E. Wilson, who has a hard time getting along with people, wants to handle prices and wage controls himself.

Visits of Royal Couple Is Part of Public Relations Program Monarchies Follow

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 1—Visits of royalty are not just impromptu affairs that develop out of a desire for travel or sightseeing on the part of princes and princesses. They are part and parcel of the so-called public-relations programs that monarchical governments have pursued for generations.

The heir to the British throne would not have been making a trip to the United States and Canada at this time, especially when her father is ill, if it had not been a part of a well-planned policy to assist in cementing relations between Canada and the home country and between the United States and Great Britain.

Sentimentally the American people have always been glad to see a Prince of Wales. The late King Edward VII came to the United States in 1860 when he was the heir to the throne. Subsequent visits by crown princes have been a tradition that has always aroused the widest acclaim. For the American people have always felt a deep curiosity about the royal families of great empires.

The visit of the present king and queen of England to the United States in 1939 was a personal triumph for the visitors because of their democratic demeanor and their unaffected simplicity. The current excursion by Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh is theoretically a result of the trip made by President Truman's daughter, Margaret to London last summer, and it may be surmised that the British public-relations department was quick to seize upon the opportunity for an exchange of courtesies.

The speeches delivered on such occasions are always written long in advance and they try to suit the formality of the occasion. But it is the wide attention given in the press which makes the trip of royalty worth while in a public-relations sense.

Thus, for instance, at this moment the plight of Great Britain is a serious one. But for the helping hand of the United States after World War 2, there would have been a disintegration of the British economy and possibly a collapse of other countries dependent on commercial relations with England. By sending the prince and princess to visit America now, the British government is manifesting its desire for a further strengthening of common ties.

There is also considerable benefit to the United States, for when the press dispatches tell Britons of the warm welcome given British royalty in this country, where monarchial forms were cast off nearly two centuries ago, it cannot but produce in the minds and hearts of the British people an impression of deep friendship. To see the people of the United States honoring British royalty is to give the British nation something with which to refute the charges of those critics inside Britain who continually exaggerate criticism of Britain in this country as a deep-seated anti-British sentiment. In reality it is more often the forthright expression of opinion between friends who feel free to talk to one another frankly.

It is unfortunate that the prince and princess are not making a nation-wide tour. For, while visits to Washington are ceremonial and typify the attitude of our government toward the visitors, the British people would have seen a tremendous outpouring of Americans if the Duke and Princess Elizabeth had been able to make a trans-continental trip. The princes and princesses of the Anglo-Saxon storybooks still maintain their hold on the imagination of young and old in America.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Oct. 31—Ralph Howard Alsup, one of the most spectacular criminals in the union racket and an official of two branches of the American Federation of Labor, has been convicted of one more crime. Already under sentence for shooting a union workman in a union hall in Las Vegas, Nev., Alsup was found guilty by a federal grand jury on Oct. 23 of conspiring with a group of plumbing contractors to fix prices and stifle competition on construction in Clark county, Nev. Clark county includes Las Vegas and a number of important war construction "projects." Alsup withheld union labor from contractors who refused to join and cooperate with him and the Merchant Plumbers' Association.

Only by means of his power as a labor racketeer was Alsup enabled to make his conspiracy effective. Nevertheless, the A. F. of L. refrained from considering his case at its recent annual convention in San Francisco. A short while before the national convention, the Nevada State Federation in Reno ejected and chased out of ear-shot two newspaper reporters assigned to cover its proceedings and then refused to accept a resignation which had been placed in Alsup's hands by Charles Hughes, a representative of William Green. Green, always loath to take action against criminals in the A. F. of L., had ignored Alsup's criminal conduct in Las Vegas and his long record as a stick-up man and veteran jailbird until the facts were insistently publicized last spring. Only then did he send an agent into the field to inquire. But after his agent had confirmed the worst, the A. F. of L. did nothing and Alsup still remains in control of a tightly organized gang of criminals in absolute command of the federation in Clark county. They also exert a strong influence in the state as a whole.

Alsup is the most violent of the racketeers in this group, but there are three others in the ruling set, one of whom has a worse record of arrests and convictions than Alsup who has made a career of crime and prison life since 1930. The FBI record of Alsup's colleague, known variously as James King, Harry Ryan, Thomas Giles and James Bailey, includes charges of manslaughter, robbery, larceny and jail-breaking in a career which began in 1921.

Harry De Paoli, the president of the State Federation of Labor, was a candidate for re-election at the state convention and needed Alsup's votes to win. De Paoli refused to discuss the charges against Alsup, who told the convention about the resignation which Green's agnt had placed in his hands.

After the reporters were put out of the convention, two of them remained near the closed door trying to learn what action would be taken to rid the federation of criminals in its high command. One of them was told to "get the hell out of here and stay out" and was shoved away by goons on guard.

Soon after this convention, Alsup got drunk, wrecked his automobile in a wild exploit which endangered many other lives, and was charged with drunken driving, possession of a pistol found in the car and a third offense, possession of a pistol by an ex-convict, which is a felony. The identification numbers had been filed off the gun.

Richard Hardy, a member of the plumbers' union, of which Alsup is business agent, was Alsup's companion on the ride. He claimed that the gun belonged to him and in this way seemed to have taken Alsup off the hook. He was fined $250 for illegal possession of the gun but was rearrested for perjury when evidence was presented that the gun was not his and that he had lied under oath. In addition to all his other official positions which establish his power as a blackmailer and extortioner, Alsup is president of the Metal Trades Council of Clark county. He is known as a dangerous gunman who shoots without the slightest hesitation or provocation. The fact that he hasn't a record as a killer is due only to his own bad aim or his victims' good luck. He also beats his wife.

Troy O. Nance, the secretary-treasurer of the Laundry Workers' Union in Las Vegas, is the editorial interpreter for Alsup and the ring. Writing in the Nevada Citizen, the official organ of Alsup's Central Labor Council,

The Strangest Woods in the World

Near Kasala, Java, there is a coppice of trees of a truly remarkable origin. The village of about 500 inhabitants suddenly went totally and inexplicably blind (as often happens in the Fear East from an undetermined infection). They stayed blind for many years and then, just as mysteriously, recovered their eyesight, one after another. Each inhabitant drove his staff into a field nearby. The walking sticks grew into trees which now cover the field and which have been established as a sacred wood where no axe may ever be used.

AMENDMENT NO. 6

This proposal endeavors to deal comprehensively with constitutional debt limits as a whole as well as with situations affecting the City of New York. It aptly has been described as a "package."

The proposed amendment comes as a recommendation of the State Comptroller's Committee on constitutional tax and debt limitations and city-school fiscal relations. This committee was established in 1947, and has carried out extensive research in the formulation of its recommendations. This particular amendment grew out of the committee's investigations of school building needs throughout the state and their relationship to the present debt limitations.

The comptroller's committee discovered that there is a growing need for the construction of additional school facilities, brought on by the sharp increase in the birth rate immediately following World War 2.

The amendment would base municipal debt limits upon a five-year average of full valuation, instead of assessed valuation as at present.

It would lower the debt limit percentages of all counties except Nassau, of all cities of less than 125,000 population and of the towns and villages.

The proposal also would provide for separation of the debt limitation for city purposes and for schools of less than 125,000.

It further would permit exclusion from the time of the contracting of the debt for revenue-producing improvements or services. At present, these cannot be excluded, in whole or part, before construction or operation. The proportion excluded under the proposed amendment would depend on estimated revenues but could not be more than 75 per cent of the debt issued in connection with the revenue-producing facility. After the facility is in actual operation, the amount of debt excluded is to be proportionate to the debt service met from the net revenues.

It would provide authorization except in New York city, to raise taxes outside the tax-limit for capital improvements, without encumbering the debt limit as required at present.

The debt limit of $500 million of new debt of construction and equipment of rapid transit lines of New York City would be excluded.

The changes proposed are designed to enable the localities to meet their capital needs without imposing an unfair burden on the owners of real estate. We believe this amendment should be adopted.

CRUSADE FOR FREEDOM

I was nearly converted to the "Crusade for Freedom" until I saw their circular "Join the Crusade for Freedom." Then I could not understand why they told a lie.

Now where does this Crusade for Freedom get off twisting the most stirring paragraph of Abraham Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address" into a false meaning?

Lincoln could not have worried about the world having a new birth of freedom, because the whole world has never known anything about freedom. DAILY DOSES OF DIGITALIS

A physician relates an experience that should be a lesson to other physicians and to patients. An old acquaintance came in for an examination, saying that he often wondered about his heart and if it were sound. The physician made the usual tests, found only slight enlargement, no shortness of breath on light exercise and a return to normal rate two minutes after usual exercise test. Although he told the patient that it was safe for him to do light work, he suggested that he return in a month for a check-up. When the patient returned, the physician found irregularity of heart beat, shortness of breath on light exercise, and told the patient to avoid exercise, get an hour's rest in the afternoon and an extra hour at night. He told him that his heart was not in as good shape as on his previous visit and he couldn't understand why.

The patient then admitted that before his previous visit he had been taking 1 grain of digitalis daily for several months and had neglected to tell the physician about it.

I am recounting this story not ony to show that a patient should tell the physician all his previous history as regards treatment by other physicians but, more particularly, to show how the heart can be kept strong and effective by a regular daily dose of digitalis.

At the last scientific session of the American Heart Association, Dr. Joseph G. Benton, New York city, gave an address on heart patients in the performance of tasks or daily living and selected occupational activities as a means of learning just how much work a diseased heart could do and be safe.

A group of 26 normal individuals and a group of 20 with diseased or failing hearts, compensated or kept up to normal strength by digitalis, were compared from standpoint of work—walking on the level or climbing stairs. The exercises were graduated and were performed under standard conditions as to duration and speed. The amount of oxygen that was used by the lungs during the exercise was measured according to the build and weight of each individual.

It was found that a diseased heart, regulated or compensated by digitalis, did not use up any more oxygen than did a normal heart entirely free of disease.

Regular visits to the family physician or heart specialist keep heart patient safe for many years.

They Dream of Home

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—The more you look into the income-tax situation, the more it appears that some U. S. tax collectors, especially those with political pull, regard their jobs as indirect pensions and spend more time on private business than on Uncle Sam's.

Fortunately, there are thousands of nonpolitical internal revenue agents, but here is an illustration of what has been happening at Nashville, Tenn. Investigation of Nashville's Internal Revenue Office so far has concerned three individuals:

1. Lipe Henslee, the suspended collector, who, following an illness a couple of years ago, fell a victim of narcotics. The Narcotics Bureau sent two agents to Tennessee to see where Henslee was getting his drugs, reported that nothing illicit was involved though he is still taking narcotics and not spending sufficient time at his office. This was the reason for Henslee's suspension.

2. Also under investigation is George Welch, Jr., assistant collector, who has been criticized for spending too much time on the affairs of the Washington Realty Company rather than on collecting taxes. The realty company owns three large apartment houses in Nashville, and the company is controlled by Welch's family.

Investigators who checked the case reported that Welch is almost stone deaf, difficult to talk to, with the result that his superiors by-passed him, gave him little work to do. Therefore, he devoted himself to his family's realty firm.

3. Also under investigation is Chief Field Deputy Ira Parker, Jr., whose family is connected with a liquor distributing firm, the National Distributing Company of Clinton, Tenn. The company was organized by Parker's nephew, Kenneth E. Caldwell, and financed by a note for $125,000 at the Commerce Union Bank of Nashville. Underwriting the note are Ted Murray of the Nashville Baseball Club and Joe Parker, brother of the chief field deputy.

What investigators are interested in is whether Ira Parker is or was an owner of any part of the liquor firm. They found an arrangement in the underwriting deal whereby Murray and Ira's brother Joe were cut in on the profits until the $125,000 loan was paid off, plus another provision whereby the loan was never to be entirely paid off, which made his brother a virtual partner. In August, Mrs. Roxie Parker, wife of the deputy collector, acquired a 25 per cent stock ownership in the firm.

It has been reported that Deputy Collector Parker accompanied representatives of the firm on their visits, thus bringing indirect pressure to increase the company's business. Caldwell, when questioned, denied this.

"Ira was down here on a visit and just happened to accompany me," he explained.

Politics and Taxes

Washington internal revenue executives say they feel sorry for Messrs. Henslee and Welch because of their physical infirmities. However, it's admitted that the government budget, already one of the biggest in history, should not be overloaded by paying salaries to those who cannot give full time to their jobs.

Note 1—The three above-mentioned collectors got their jobs through Sen. Kenneth McKellar, who, as chairman of the Appropriations Committee, is one of the most powerful—and irascible—members of Congress. To fire one of his appointees would mean bringing the well-known McKellar wrath down on the entire Internal Revenue Bureau and probably curtailing its budget. Hence McKellar's friends stay on the payroll whether they work or not.

Note 2—What our tax-collecting system needs is to have collectors appointed by civil service, not politics, and then rotate them to different cities after they have lived ten years in a community. After collectors have made too many friends they lose their effectiveness.

Friendly Senator—Sen. Olin Johnston of South Carolina believes that a friend is a friend. He has just demanded a Senate investigation of Puerto Rican Governor Munoz Marin's administration—all because of friendship. Olin's friend is not Governor Marin, but Leonard Long of Charleston, S. C., from whom the governor is trying to collect one million dollars in taxes. Inside story is that Long has been mass-producing houses in Puerto Rico. He was promised tax exemptions on the housing by former Gov. Jesus Penero, but the new governor has now filed suit to collect. So Long's friend, Senator Johnston, wants Governor Marin investigated.

British Admirals—A secret State Department report blames the British admiralty for the crisis in Iran. The British admirals controlled the Abadan refinery, but were too blind to grant the Iranians a few small concessions. For example, the admirals charged the Iranians the full price for gasoline used in Iran, plus the cost of freight from the Caribbean. In other words, the Iranians had to pay a phony freight rate, even though the gasoline came from their own wells and was never shipped. The admirals also refused to allow Iranians to examine the books or sit on the board of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

Health Drive—The American Legion and other vet groups will get behind a physical-fitness program to counteract the heavy rejection of draft 4-F's—now running better than 60 per cent in some big cities. The program is spearheaded by Congressman E. H. Hedrick of West Virginia, a doctor and long-time crusader for more outdoor exercise and better diet education to improve civilian health. President Truman has privately okayed the idea. Also, the Miami Beach Chamber of Commerce has offered to make Miami Beach the national headquarters for the health drive—if Hedrick can get a bill through Congress.

Washington Pipeline

GOP Sen. Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska is mending after an operation at George Washington University Hospital, where he paid the full rate instead of accepting the cut-rate accommodations for congressmen at Bethesda Naval Hospital . . . Wherry also scorns congressional junkets, pays wherever he goes . . . another congressman who pays his own way is Jarman of Oklahoma, Democrat. He is going to Korea at his own expense . . . The Bonner Committee, incidentally, has now decided to go to Korea for an important investigation . . . Jovial Congressman Donald O'Toole of Brooklyn was commenting on the trials of big-city congressmen in a campaign year. "Everybody wants to get into the act," mourned O'Toole. "Sometimes it's a little gruesome. If I even sneeze, at least ten guys file for my congressional seat, hoping I'll catch pneumonia." . . . It's standing room only in Washington theatres for "The Day the Earth Stood Still"—despite the fact that Elmer Davis, Hans Kaltenborn, Gabriel Heatter and DP play a small part in it . . . Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston will not be replaced. Mobilization Boss Charles E. Wilson, who has a hard time getting along with people, wants to handle prices and wage controls himself.

The Strangest Woods in the World

Near Kasala, Java, there is a coppice of trees of a truly remarkable origin. The village of about 500 inhabitants suddenly went totally and inexplicably blind (as often happens in the Fear East from an undetermined infection). They stayed blind for many years and then, just as mysteriously, recovered their eyesight, one after another. Each inhabitant drove his staff into a field nearby. The walking sticks grew into trees which now cover the field and which have been established as a sacred wood where no axe may ever be used.

Visits of Royal Couple Is Part of Public Relations Program Monarchies Follow

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 1—Visits of royalty are not just impromptu affairs that develop out of a desire for travel or sightseeing on the part of princes and princesses. They are part and parcel of the so-called public-relations programs that monarchical governments have pursued for generations.

The heir to the British throne would not have been making a trip to the United States and Canada at this time, especially when her father is ill, if it had not been a part of a well-planned policy to assist in cementing relations between Canada and the home country and between the United States and Great Britain.

Sentimentally the American people have always been glad to see a Prince of Wales. The late King Edward VII came to the United States in 1860 when he was the heir to the throne. Subsequent visits by crown princes have been a tradition that has always aroused the widest acclaim. For the American people have always felt a deep curiosity about the royal families of great empires.

The visit of the present king and queen of England to the United States in 1939 was a personal triumph for the visitors because of their democratic demeanor and their unaffected simplicity. The current excursion by Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh is theoretically a result of the trip made by President Truman's daughter, Margaret to London last summer, and it may be surmised that the British public-relations department was quick to seize upon the opportunity for an exchange of courtesies.

The speeches delivered on such occasions are always written long in advance and they try to suit the formality of the occasion. But it is the wide attention given in the press which makes the trip of royalty worth while in a public-relations sense.

Thus, for instance, at this moment the plight of Great Britain is a serious one. But for the helping hand of the United States after World War 2, there would have been a disintegration of the British economy and possibly a collapse of other countries dependent on commercial relations with England. By sending the prince and princess to visit America now, the British government is manifesting its desire for a further strengthening of common ties.

There is also considerable benefit to the United States, for when the press dispatches tell Britons of the warm welcome given British royalty in this country, where monarchial forms were cast off nearly two centuries ago, it cannot but produce in the minds and hearts of the British people an impression of deep friendship. To see the people of the United States honoring British royalty is to give the British nation something with which to refute the charges of those critics inside Britain who continually exaggerate criticism of Britain in this country as a deep-seated anti-British sentiment. In reality it is more often the forthright expression of opinion between friends who feel free to talk to one another frankly.

It is unfortunate that the prince and princess are not making a nation-wide tour. For, while visits to Washington are ceremonial and typify the attitude of our government toward the visitors, the British people would have seen a tremendous outpouring of Americans if the Duke and Princess Elizabeth had been able to make a trans-continental trip. The princes and princesses of the Anglo-Saxon storybooks still maintain their hold on the imagination of young and old in America.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Oct. 31—Ralph Howard Alsup, one of the most spectacular criminals in the union racket and an official of two branches of the American Federation of Labor, has been convicted of one more crime. Already under sentence for shooting a union workman in a union hall in Las Vegas, Nev., Alsup was found guilty by a federal grand jury on Oct. 23 of conspiring with a group of plumbing contractors to fix prices and stifle competition on construction in Clark county, Nev. Clark county includes Las Vegas and a number of important war construction "projects." Alsup withheld union labor from contractors who refused to join and cooperate with him and the Merchant Plumbers' Association.

Only by means of his power as a labor racketeer was Alsup enabled to make his conspiracy effective. Nevertheless, the A. F. of L. refrained from considering his case at its recent annual convention in San Francisco. A short while before the national convention, the Nevada State Federation in Reno ejected and chased out of ear-shot two newspaper reporters assigned to cover its proceedings and then refused to accept a resignation which had been placed in Alsup's hands by Charles Hughes, a representative of William Green. Green, always loath to take action against criminals in the A. F. of L., had ignored Alsup's criminal conduct in Las Vegas and his long record as a stick-up man and veteran jailbird until the facts were insistently publicized last spring. Only then did he send an agent into the field to inquire. But after his agent had confirmed the worst, the A. F. of L. did nothing and Alsup still remains in control of a tightly organized gang of criminals in absolute command of the federation in Clark county. They also exert a strong influence in the state as a whole.

Alsup is the most violent of the racketeers in this group, but there are three others in the ruling set, one of whom has a worse record of arrests and convictions than Alsup who has made a career of crime and prison life since 1930. The FBI record of Alsup's colleague, known variously as James King, Harry Ryan, Thomas Giles and James Bailey, includes charges of manslaughter, robbery, larceny and jail-breaking in a career which began in 1921.

Harry De Paoli, the president of the State Federation of Labor, was a candidate for re-election at the state convention and needed Alsup's votes to win. De Paoli refused to discuss the charges against Alsup, who told the convention about the resignation which Green's agnt had placed in his hands.

After the reporters were put out of the convention, two of them remained near the closed door trying to learn what action would be taken to rid the federation of criminals in its high command. One of them was told to "get the hell out of here and stay out" and was shoved away by goons on guard.

Soon after this convention, Alsup got drunk, wrecked his automobile in a wild exploit which endangered many other lives, and was charged with drunken driving, possession of a pistol found in the car and a third offense, possession of a pistol by an ex-convict, which is a felony. The identification numbers had been filed off the gun.

Richard Hardy, a member of the plumbers' union, of which Alsup is business agent, was Alsup's companion on the ride. He claimed that the gun belonged to him and in this way seemed to have taken Alsup off the hook. He was fined $250 for illegal possession of the gun but was rearrested for perjury when evidence was presented that the gun was not his and that he had lied under oath. In addition to all his other official positions which establish his power as a blackmailer and extortioner, Alsup is president of the Metal Trades Council of Clark county. He is known as a dangerous gunman who shoots without the slightest hesitation or provocation. The fact that he hasn't a record as a killer is due only to his own bad aim or his victims' good luck. He also beats his wife.

Troy O. Nance, the secretary-treasurer of the Laundry Workers' Union in Las Vegas, is the editorial interpreter for Alsup and the ring. Writing in the Nevada Citizen, the official organ of Alsup's Central Labor Council,

Rotary Club to Bring 'Brigadoon' Here February 12

President J. Dean Dykstra of the Kingston Rotary Club announced Wednesday that "Brigadoon," the musical which was Broadway's favorite a few years ago, will be brought to Kingston on February 12 next.

The musical will be staged at the Kingston High School, both afternoon and evening, by the Civic Drama Guild of New York city. The afternon performance will be for high school students. Proceeds will go toward the local youth benefit of the Rotary Club.

The guest speaker at the luncheon-meeting at the Hotel Stuyvesant was Attorney Abram F. Molyneaux, who served during World War 2 with the United States forces in intelligence and counter-espionage in the South Pacific.

The speaker outlined the work of the departments in this country, where the main task was the security of the troops, and also their operations in the Philippines and in Japan, where their work was in connection with espionage.

The difficulties encountered with different languages and with those who were not loyal to their own countries and the methods used in dealing with these people were described with on-the-scene information.

In speaking of Japan, he said, the Japanese feared the Russians and from that standpoint he felt they would attempt to build a strong nation.

Touch of Winter Makes Bad Roads

The first touch of winter blew in this morning on a north wind bringing snow in the mountain areas and later sleet which made highway travel dangerous. In Kingston sleet began to fall shortly before 10 o'clock followed by a slight snow which covered lawns and made motor traffic slow down.

Last week the first snow of the season fell in the Tannersville-Haines Falls area but melted during the morning hours.

Corporal Ray Dunn at Phoenicia reported snow had fallen early in that area, covering lawns and slowing up motor traffic. Later in the morning the snow turned to sleet.

State police reported highways slippery from sleet which was driven in on a high wind. No serious accidents were reported during the early hours of the day.

Temperatures in the low 30's were reported from various localities.

As Pegler Sees It

he exulted in the fact that five delegates remained seated when the overwhelming majority voted to reject Alsup's resignation at the state convention. In the same spirit, he reported that when De Paoli demanded that those who favored Alsup's resignation should stand up and be counted, the five lost their nerve and stayed down. Alsup is editor of the Nevada Citizen and defends himself at the expense of the rank and file.

A special agent from the national headquarters of the Plumbers and Steamfitters who "investigated" Alsup's reign presented a glowing report. Local 525, ruled by Alsup, had the highest wage scale of all the locals, there were no delinquents on the books, and "if all our locals were conducted in like manner my job as international representative would be a vacation."

He ignored Alsup's indictment, now confirmed by the jury's verdict, for using the local as a weapon for extortion and his sentence of two years for shooting a union painter in 1950 because this man went to the painters' union to complain about some routine injustice.

Unionism in Nevada is more spectacular in some details but, on the whole, is characteristic of the American Federation of Labor.

Here's Some Advice: Don't Be Greedy

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"You can't swindle an honest man," all the confidence men will tell you. The easiest man to swindle is the greedy fellow who's out for a profit that doesn't belong to him. The honest man will pass that profit up, but the greedy fellow will reach for it every time.

Is this a sermon or a bridge column? Today it happens to be a little of both.

West opened the queen of spades in the hand shown today, and South won in his own hand with the ace. He counted six clubs, two spades, and a heart no matter what happened—so he was always sure of his game. Meanwhile, there was no harm in taking a look at the diamonds.

So declarer led the jack of diamonds at the second trick. West naturally played low, and so did dummy. East won with the ace of diamonds.

East returned a spade to dummy's king, and South got back to his own hand with the nine of clubs in order to lead the ten of diamonds. West again played low, and so did dummy.

Thereupon East produced the queen of diamonds to win the trick. He then led a third round of spades, allowing his partner to win three tricks in that suit. Three spades and two diamonds were enough to set the contract.

East's little swindle was very neat, of course, but nothing to rave about. It worked only because South was too greedy to be satisfied with a sure ten tricks and the rubber. A sensible declarer would have taken his 630 points and would not have risked them for the sake of an uncertain 30 or 60 points more.

Glazing Hams

A glaze should be added to a ham about an hour before the total baking time for the ham is over; be sure to remove the rind and score the fat before you spread the glaze over the meat.

Bad Movie Weather

Regina, Sask. (AP)—The weather is poor in western Canada for making pictures in the opinion of two Danish movie men. "Sunny Alberta isn't sunny. Dry Saskatchewan isn't dry and beautiful British Columbia is foggy," Palle Bojesen of Copenhagen, film producer for the Danish Film Board, lamented. Mr. Bojesen, and Erik Olsen, cameramen, are making a one-hour color film called "Canada, Sea to Sea." The pair had been in Canada seven weeks and had poor picture-making weather since they arrived in the west.

MODENA

Modena, Nov. 1—Annual Rally Day services were conducted on Sunday in the Modena Methodist Church with the Rev. William A. Imler, pastor in charge. The pastor chose for the subject of his sermon The Most Wonderful Thing in the World. Special singing was rendered by members of the junior and cherub choirs.

A delegation of members of the Wesleyan Guild, comprised of Mrs. William A. Bookmakers Facing Double Trouble Now

New York, Nov. 1 (AP)—Bookmakers faced double trouble here as the new federal $50-a-year tax on gamblers went into effect today.

Local police, when they pick up a bookmaking suspect, will notify federal agents.

A bookmaker without a federal stamp will be in trouble.

Any one obtaining a federal stamp is open to prosecution under the New York state laws against gambling.

A few dozen bookies showed up, in person or by proxy, for application forms yesterday.

At the customs house, most applicants said they were attorneys applying for clients.

One man stalked into the licensing office and told a clerk:

"I'm a bookie. Gimme one of them forms."

To make a quick Roquefort cheese dressing, crumble a third of a cup of the cheese into a cup and a half of French dressing. Shake well before pouring over the salad greens.

Firemen Extinguish Blaze in Brush Area

A brush fire between the Kingston city line and Eddyville was brought under control by 35 volunteer firemen from Bloomington assisted by the Kingston Fire Department early today.

A brisk wind fanned the flames and kept firemen on the scene for about two hours, Chief Yunker reported. Cause of the fire is unknown.

Rain which drenched the area began falling just after the fire was declared out and firemen were starting back to their stations.

The island of Terceira in the Azores group is 2,400 miles from New York.

Firemen Extinguish Blaze in Brush Area

A brush fire between the Kingston city line and Eddyville was brought under control by 35 volunteer firemen from Bloomington assisted by the Kingston Fire Department early today.

Bloomington sent its two trucks to the fire at 1:45 a. m. today. Chief Joseph Yunker called for assistance and Engine 2 of Cornell station in Kingston was dispatched through mutual aid.

A brisk wind fanned the flames and kept firemen on the scene for about two hours, Chief Yunker reported. Cause of the fire is unknown.

Hunters Converge On Escape Area

Mt. Ida, Ark., Nov. 1 (AP)—A rare chance to hunt a couple of strange animals for this section of the southland—a spotted cat and a white bear—brought hunters arunning to this western Arkansas area today.

The animals were described as dangerous by sportsmen and circus people. The leader of the hunt, Sheriff Wilbur Tidwell of Montgomery county, was optimistic over the chances of bringing back the four-footed fugitives—dead or alive.

Two leopards, a polar bear, two black bears and several rhesus monkeys escaped when a circus van overturned and freed the beasts in the rugged, sparsely settled Ouachita National Forest, 15 miles northwest of here yesterday morning. The black bears are said to be tame.

Leopard Is Killed

Several hours later, one of the leopards was shot and killed when it ventured onto a highway not far from the scene of the wreck. Although several persons fired, Sheriff Tidwell credited Arkansas state highway patrolman Clarence (Red) Montgomery of Malvern with the kill and he was allowed to keep the pelt as a prize.

The leopard weighed 128 pounds. Montgomery shot the animal with a sub-machine gun.

The escaped animals belonged to Campa Bros. Circus, a truck show with a large menagerie.

It was the second misfortune in a 12-hour period for the circus, made up mostly of Latin-American employes. On Tuesday night, while showing in Mena, Ark., a young lion clawed to death the nine-year-old granddaughter of a woman animal trainer.

Circus owner Ben Davenport and another show official, Hugh Reeves were charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of the child, Maria de la Luez. They were freed, however, after a hearing at Mena yesterday. Police Judge Clem Brown said there wasn't sufficient evidence of negligence.

The circus was to have performed here last night, but the show didn't go on.

White Crosses Replaced

Honolulu (AP) — The long rows of wooden crosses marking the graves of 13,000 World War 2 and Korean war dead are being removed from Punchbowl Cemetery. Flat stone markers are replacing the white crosses. Army authorities said the change is being made because the wooden crosses deteriorated too rapidly in Hawaii's climate.

Apple Industry Faces Rough Future, Committee Is Told

New York's apple industry faces an unsound economic future because of the increased maggot infestation, a group of area growers told a state committee at a hearing at the Governor Clinton Hotel this morning.

The increase in the number of maggot flies has forced growers to increase the number of sprays applied to orchards to the point where costs are threatening to wipe out profits, the growers said.

One of the reasons advanced for the present situation is the existence of large numbers of neglected and abandoned orchards which become breeding places for the maggot.

The growers, headed by Gerow Schoonmaker of Wallkill, presented their theories at a public meeting this morning of the state's Temporary Commission on Agriculture's sub-committee on fruits and vegetables. Chairman J. Raymond Shoemaker, of Elmira, presided.

Headed by Erwin

The Temporary Commission on Agriculture, headed by Senator Austin W. Erwin, was created by the Legislature to study regulations on marketing perishable farm commodities with a view toward helping place state agriculture on a more sound economic footing. The commission includes both legislators and lay members. Legislative member of the subcommittee here today was Senator Samuel L. Greenberg of Brooklyn.

Area farmers asked the committee to consider the advisability of eliminating neglected or abandoned orchards in the state as a way of reducing maggot flies.

The committee recommended setting up the Germantown area in Columbia county as a test area in which to remove the old orchards and then study the effects of this removal.

John Clynes, Germantown grower, told the group of a survey made there which shows that the town of Germantown—once one of New York's leading and most progressive apple growing areas—contains 2,000 acres of derelict orchards. Each acre contains between 27 and 30 trees, making a total of almost 60,000 trees to be removed, he said.

Agrees on Appropriation

one-third of the cost of removing agreed to appropriate $9,000, or

Clynes said that the township the trees, and that the Columbia county board of supervisors indicated it would match that amount. A third $9,000 appropriation from the state would enable the project to start, he said, but it was found out that the state law prohibits the spending of town and county money for that purpose.

He asked that some legislation be approved to permit the work to be done in the town of Germantown as a demonstration of the value of removing the neglected trees.

This morning's meeting was attended by about 20 growers from Ulster, Columbia, Dutchess, Orange and Sullivan counties. Growers prominent in the area, in addition to Mr. Schoonmaker, who were present included E. Stuart Hubbard, past president of the New York State Horticultural Society; James R. Clarke, Milton, vice president of the association.

Commenting on the future of the industry, Clynes noted that New York once was the "number one" state in apple production, and is now in second place. "It is slipping day by day," he contended.

Other items mentioned by area growers for study were these:

Improved distribution methods to lower the cost to the consumer.

Possibility of a state tax or special budget for promotion.

Help from the State Department of Commerce and additional help from Extension Service.

Improvement in market reports.

Say Two Arrests Solve 40 Bronx Burglaries

New York, Nov. 1 (AP)—Detectives said today they had arrested two men, one a patient in Albany City Hospital, and solved a string of 40 burglaries in the Bronx.

The two men, Robert Fletcher, 21, (651 West 178th St.), and Frank Frasello, 19, (550 West 168th St.), have made statements admitting the crimes, authorities said.

Fletcher was placed under arrest yesterday in the Albany hospital, where he is in critical condition from a chest wound suffered in a hunting accident north of Albany on Oct. 10.

Frasello was seized at his home. He was free on $1,000 bail for appearance before the Schoharie county grand jury on a felonious assault charge arising out of the Oct. 10 shooting.

Detectives said Frasello shot Fletcher accidentally.

Fletcher, they said, was on probation after serving part of a burglary term in Sing Sing prison.

Planes Still in Sky

Tokyo, Thursday, Nov. 1 (AP)—Allied planes still dominate the skies over Korea, and rumors to the contrary "just aren't so," a headquarters spokesman said today. Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols' public information office branded as "not factual" a radio commentator's report that the Reds were putting 1,000 MIGs in the air daily and that 14 U. S. planes, including four superforts, were shot down in a single day.

Nevada's Bookies Quit; Headache For State Coffers

Reno, Nev., Nov. 1 (AP)—Most of Nevada's legal bookies quit today because of the federal government's new 10 per cent tax on gambling.

That might save a lot of bettor's some scratch (money). But it presumably will give Nevada's state treasury quite a jolt.

Taxes and license fees and bookies and their race result suppliers bring Nevada a conservatively estimated $172,000 a year.

That's about 13 per cent of the state's overall take from legal gambling which last year totaled $1,348,500. For a state whose annual budget scarcely exceeds $7,000,000 that loss can be felt.

Nevada has 24 licensed horse bookies—13 in Las Vegas, nine here and two in Elko.

If all quit, they would put Nevada in the ironical position of being the only state in the union where bookies are legal—but with none operating.

Out of Business

Frank Cohen, Reno agent for Continental Press, a national race wire service, said the bookies' closing would put him out of business. He added:

"If old Uncle Sam thinks he's going to get anything out of this new 10 per cent tax, I'm afraid he's in for a disappointment.

"It's driving the legal guts out and will send the illegal ones so far underground they won't even be paying the income tax they pay now."

Unlike Las Vegas bookmakers who announced in a body that they were quitting, the Reno bookies issued no statement.

But a check with most of Reno's major gambling clubs brought pretty much the same response:

"We're not opening our book today and I don't think anybody else is."

At Elko, one operator said he was not going to take any bets "for a few days at least." The other said he wanted to see what others did.

Written Tests Required

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 1 (AP)—It's going to be tougher to get an automobile driver's license in Connecticut. Applicants are required now to answer a few oral questions. Effective Monday, however, they must pass a written examination. The new system has been tried out in Hartford. Charles F. Kelley, state motor vehicles commissioner, said the results indicated that failures will jump from the present 5 per cent to 15 per cent. That will mean, said Kelley, that applicants will have to give a bit more study to a handbook provided by his department to prospective drivers.

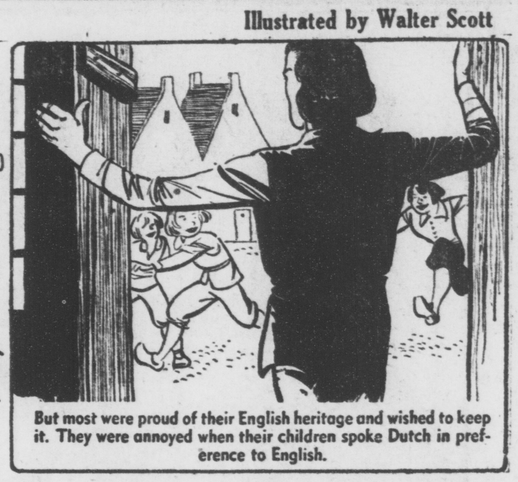
THE FIRST THANKSGIVING

Illustrated by Walter Scott

During their seven years at Leyden, the Pilgrims failed to flourish. There was little place in the Dutch economy for unskilled farm labor.

The Dutch, quite naturally, preferred their own kind, and encouraged the Pilgrims to become Dutchmen. Many did.

COPR. 1951 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.



But most were proud of their English heritage and wished to keep it. They were annoyed when their children spoke Dutch in preference to English.

Tax Law for Farmers

Raleigh, N. C. (AP) — A short course in income tax procedure for persons who assist farmers in filing returns will be held at North Carolina State College next month. In announcing plans for the course, H. B. James, head of the State College Department of Agricultural Economics, said "The complicated nature of modern farming, the lack of adequate farm accounts, and special provisions in income tax laws applying to farming, make the filing of farm income tax returns complicated." The course is sponsored by the U. S. Department of Revenue and the university's Department of Agricultural Economics and Extension Division.

Cement Expensive

Brisbane, Australia (AP)—Queenslanders are buying thousands of bags of Japanese cement at nearly four times the prices of locally produced cement. Reason is that there is not enough local cement to go around. It is expected that Queensland importers will sell nearly 30,000 tons of cement from Japan and the East by Christmas.

No News Conference

Washington, Nov. 1 (AP)—President Truman decided to forego today his usual Thursday news conference. The White House said he did so because of the visit here of Britain's Princess Elizabeth and her husband, Philip.

The Azores stretch from 800 to 1,200 miles west of Portugal.

THE FIRST THANKSGIVING

Illustrated by Walter Scott

During their seven years at Leyden, the Pilgrims failed to flourish. There was little place in the Dutch economy for unskilled farm labor.

The Dutch, quite naturally, preferred their own kind, and encouraged the Pilgrims to become Dutchmen. Many did.

But most were proud of their English heritage and wished to keep it. They were annoyed when their children spoke Dutch in preference to English.

Tax Law for Farmers

Raleigh, N. C. (AP) — A short course in income tax procedure for persons who assist farmers in filing returns will be held at North Carolina State College next month. In announcing plans for the course, H. B. James, head of the State College Department of Agricultural Economics, said "The complicated nature of modern farming, the lack of adequate farm accounts, and special provisions in income tax laws applying to farming, make the filing of farm income tax returns complicated." The course is sponsored by the U. S. Department of Revenue and the university's Department of Agricultural Economics and Extension Division.

Cement Expensive

Brisbane, Australia (AP)—Queenslanders are buying thousands of bags of Japanese cement at nearly four times the prices of locally produced cement. Reason is that there is not enough local cement to go around. It is expected that Queensland importers will sell nearly 30,000 tons of cement from Japan and the East by Christmas.

No News Conference

Washington, Nov. 1 (AP)—President Truman decided to forego today his usual Thursday news conference. The White House said he did so because of the visit here of Britain's Princess Elizabeth and her husband, Philip.

The Azores stretch from 800 to 1,200 miles west of Portugal.

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

Apropos of the confusion that exists these days a correspondent sends the Ruminator a good story which you'll enjoy. An old darky was trudging along a dusty road in the deep south, dragging a piece of rope with a loop in the end. He mumbled to himself and shook his head as he walked. A passer-by stopped him and said he looked confused. "Boy! Am I confused! I don't know whether I found a rope or lost a mule."

You could apply this to almost any of the chaotic events of the times. Wherever you look—at home or abroad (Korea, for example)—it is difficult indeed to determine whether we're winning or losing.

Winston Churchill doubtless has had moments since the British elections when he couldn't decide whether he had won an election or lost a following.

Speaking of Churchill, and to the contrary to those who are saying that the election in Great Britain will not change anything, the Ruminator believes you can bet your last fifty-cent dollar that Churchill's return to power will mean a great deal and will change a great many things.

Mr. Churchill is not the sort of person who sits back and lets, permitting affairs to drag along. He is a living example of the saying attributed to Napoleon that when asked if circumstances couldn't alter his plans,' replied haughtily, "Circumstances? I make the circumstances; circumstances don't make me." (Pardon the inaccuracy of quotation, but you get the idea.)

You will see Mr. Churchill making circumstances in coming weeks and months, even if the results should overthrow his government. It certainly the pause given to the socialistic trend in Great Britain is something to be encouraged about here, as it will dampen the ardor of the New Dealers and bureaucrats in this country who have been aping the British socialists for the past several years.

It is my money, it is a wonderful comfort that the world will have Winston Churchill again speaking out in that inimitable manner of his about the problems of the world. Even Stalin does not understand Churchill, and President Truman knows he can't pass off Churchill's plans and programs with some wise-crack at a news conference.

It is said that Churchill's election will cost us money, because we will be over here shortly to ask for a loan. There isn't much doubt about that probably, but we would have been asked for financial aid in any event. Great Britain is in trouble again, financially, but there should be a far better chance for her to get out of the jam with Churchill heading the government than with a continuation of the Socialists who had come to the end of their rope. They were a tired lot, and nothing is more needed now than a renewed spirit of confidence and hope, in addition to a new loan. The new government will be able to alter the public psychology, if past experience is any guide.

And it should revive spirits over here, too, where we have experienced the "same crowd" resting too long in office.

Let us hope that Mr. Churchill's election abroad is a forerunner of a change in "management" here, too.

The recent jolt in the stock market is another development that the Ruminator thinks may be interpreted encouragingly. This is seemingly unconnected with an election in Great Britain, but there may be quite a little connection. The first selling wave was doubtless touched off by the surprisingly large inroads on profits from taxes, but the continued selling pressure may be a reflection of the fact that Winston Churchill announced his determination to wage a relentless battle for peace.

Over the long run, peace is more bullish on stocks than war. Nevertheless, there has been speculation based upon war business and for the short run any thought that there might be a possibility of a peaceful settlement with Russia (and in Korea) is enough to cause a psychological upset and a consequent upset in stocks.

Moreover, the break in prices will be a further dampener on inflation, and the fears of inflation have been partially responsible for Wall Street's speculation.

If you ruminate over these seemingly unconnected developments you can visualize possibilities, however faint they appear now, which could lead to a far different future trend than has been generally accepted.

Do You Remember

BY SOPHIE MILLER

Strange that I could have gone through the school system in Kingston, graduating from Kingston High and living right here in Kingston and Ulster county, yet never heard of the "Ulster County Gazette" of Jan. 4, 1800, until I was writing this column for several years. How could my education of local history be so neglected? In fact, it was only a couple of years ago that I ever heard of the "Square Dealer" and about a year ago that the McAndrew family gave me a number of copies. I remember bringing them upstairs and showing it to my father. At first he would not look at it because he heard it was strictly a "scandal sheet" but then once he started reading it, he forgot time and everything. Years hadn't dimmed the interest and clever writing. He enjoyed it as much last year as folks who grabbed it from the shouting newsboys some 40 years ago.

With my interest in the Ulster County Gazette being re-awakened almost weekly by inquiries from various states and folks around here, everything written about it interests me. In the little booklet written by R. W. G. Vail and put out by the New York Public Library of 5th avenue and 42nd street, New York. There is one item on page 21 which reads in part. "The story of the sale of one of the reprints is interestingly told by 'Linus' in the New York Sun Oct. 22, 1929, as follows: "I have seen hundreds of the so-called facsimile copies all at one time, around 1877 or 1878 . . . The place, a large field up in O'Reilly street at the edge of the city of Kingston. The occasion, the Centennial Celebration of some revolutionary event of particular interest to that locality."

He continues with: "I was then a boy of 7 or 8, and lived seven miles from Kingston. My father took my older brother and me to the celebration. I have a vivid memory of the big parade up Broadway, soldiers, some dressed in old Continental uniforms, fire companies with hook and ladder trucks, and the old hand pump fire engines—members of secret organizations, particularly that of the Masons with their white aprons that appealed to my boyish mind . . . and a long line of carriages . . . I think they called them barouches . . . filled with the orators and distinguished guests of the occasion . . . The parade wound up at the vacant lot above mentioned, the orators orated. We all ate sandwiches and drank lemonade, everybody got a copy of the Ulster County Gazette, which were sold very cheaply, and everybody went home tired and happy."

The author even describes method used by publisher William T. Delaplaine owner of the Frederick News of Frederick, Md., to make the Gazette old looking. Mr. Delaplaine took a bunch of ordinary news print cut to size of Gazette and soaked it in one of his brother-in-law's tan vats in order to give the paper appearance of age. After the paper was taken from the vats, it was spread in the sun and dried, and then run through the printing press.

You see to what trouble many folks went to print and reprint the little Ulster County Gazette. That little paper made a living for a lot of folks besides the original publisher Samuel Freer and Son of Kingston. And to this day it is being reprinted. Right before me I have a 'certified copy' put out by Canyon City News of Azusa, Calif., dated Thursday, Oct. 26, 1950.

Mr. Delaplaine took a bunch of ordinary news print cut to size of Gazette and soaked it in one of his brother-in-law's tan vats in order to give the paper appearance of age. After the paper was taken from the vats, it was spread in the sun and dried, and then run through the printing press.

You see to what trouble many folks went to print and reprint the little Ulster County Gazette. That little paper made a living for a lot of folks besides the original publisher Samuel Freer and Son of Kingston. And to this day it is being reprinted. Right before me I have a 'certified copy' put out by Canyon City News of Azusa, Calif., dated Thursday, Oct. 26, 1950.

Fred C. Harder, Rose Amato Hogan Deliver Addresses

Fred C. Harder, candidate on the Democratic and Liberal party tickets for the office of alderman-at-large, delivered the following address on the radio Wednesday evening. Rose Amato Hogan also spoke on behalf of the Democratic candidates.

As the Democratic and Liberal party candidate for alderman-at-large, it is my purpose to discuss with you this evening the duties of this important office in the legislative branch of our city government. I listened most carefully to the radio talk of the present alderman-at-large last Friday evening. I expected that he would explain to you the duties of the office to which he is seeking re-election, and give you the reasons why he thought you should re-elect him. Instead, and to my amazement, he spoke about the remarks made some nights earlier by the Democratic county chairman. He very carefully avoided, however, the radio address of Raymond A. McAndrew, the Democratic candidate for mayor. And that Republican candidate was very careful not to face any issue raised by Mr. McAndrew.

No, the Republican candidate for alderman-at-large was not going to discuss any issue that was vital to the city campaign. He was setting the pattern of this Republican campaign — avoid issues and indulge in unfounded personal attacks upon the Democratic candidates.

As a matter of fact, I had never even heard about those mysterious whispering charges until the Republican candidate for alderman-at-large mentioned them. Actually he is the only person I ever heard discuss them. I think the fair-minded people of the city can—and will—draw their own conclusions as to where it originated.

I believe we should ignore such childish antics, no matter what our opponents are really afraid of. Instead, suppose we consider the duties of an alderman-at-large, and the qualifications of a person who seeks election as president of the Common Council of this city.

I was born in the City of Kingston and have resided here all my life. For the past 27 years I have continuously lived in the Fourth Ward. For over 30 years I have been employed by the same concern, A. H. Gildersleeve & Son of this city, which business I have managed since 1936. As salesman and manager of this large wholesale business, I have for many years been in contact with the business men of this community.

Having been appointed a member of the Board of Fire Commissioners I served on that board for six years. For two years I was president of that municipal body. Part of such time was under the present administration. The Board of Fire Commissioners is given extremely wide powers under our city charter. These include the power to buy land, to build and repair fire houses, and to keep all fire equipment in good usable condition. During my term of office much badly needed equipment was purchased for Wiltwyck fire station, for the Central fire station, and also for A. H. Wicks Engine Company, all at a total cost of about $75,000.

I have had the pleasure of serving as secretary of the Ulster County Firemen's Association for the past 10 years and still hold that office. I have been, and still am, a member of various fraternal and civic organizations of this community.

The alderman-at-large of this city is an office whose duties are prescribed by Section 29-a of the city charter of our city. He is the president of the Common Council and is its presiding officer. I am familiar with the parliamentary procedures which control such a presiding officer as well as the rules which govern the business of the Common Council. Every committee of the Common Council is appointed by the alderman-at-large. He has the same duties and powers of an alderman, except that he cannot vote upon any matter, unless there is a tie.

In the event that the mayor is not able to perform the duties of his office, for the reasons specified in the Charter, or, in the event that a vacancy occurs in the office of the mayor, the alderman-at-large thereupon becomes the acting mayor. He remains in that capacity until the mayor shall resume his office or the vacancy be filled, pursuant to the provisions of law. When he serves as acting-mayor, he is vested with all of the powers of the mayor, except that he cannot remove any appointed officers.

And so, this is a most important office to fill. It requires a man who will not be controlled at every moment by a ruthless political machine, but one who will fearlessly and impartially conduct the meetings of the Common Council, and appoint the various committees of aldermen, in such a fashion that the very best interests of all the people,—not merely one political party—will be served.

He must be able to get along well with other men, whose views and opinions he must respect, and whose rights he must protect.

If I am elected as your alderman-at-large, I will conduct that office without fear of any person. I will follow the dictates of my own conscience, being guided by what I sincerely believe is best for all the people of Kingston.

My business experience and dealings with so many of my fellow citizens over a long period of years has given me a deep insight into many of their problems.

My contacts with the volunteer firemen of this city and county for 10 years has impressed upon me the great value of the work done by this entirely volunteer group. Their contribution to the City of Kingston has been too lightly considered by the present administration. If I should become your alderman-at-large, I will strive for a greater recognition, by all the people, of the splendid contribution the volunteer firemen are making to the safety and well-being of our citizens.

I promise that if you honor me by election to this high office in our city government, the affairs of the Common Council will be carried out in an entirely fair, impartial manner, with the making of a better and finer Kingston my constant goal.

Let us return good government to the City of Kingston. Elect Raymond A. McAndrew as your mayor, and give him the workmen to help him accomplish his program for this city, namely, a Democratic common council, and alderman-at-large.

Decker Is Honored By Central Hudson

John Decker of 632 Broadway, a line foreman of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation, was honored yesterday for 30 years' service to the utility company.

Decker's first job with Central Hudson was as a groundman at Wappingers. Since then he has served as lineman, assistant line foreman and line supervisor.

At a ceremony during which he presented Decker with an emblem, President Ernest R. Acker of the Central Hudson System, said:

"It is a privilege to testify to your fine record of loyal and dependable service and to express my personal appreciation of the contribution you have made to the effective operation of the company's electric distribution department. Throughout the period of your employment you have executed all assignments with competence, perseverence and unfailing cooperation and have won the respect and affection of all of your associates."

Oceanic Earthquakes

There are, on the average, about 50 major earthquakes annually. These are recorded at seismograph stations all over the world. Whether they produce damage depends upon where they occur. A large proportion are under the ocean and, if it were not for the seismographs, we would never know about them.

You, Too?

Los Angeles, (AP)—Hey, if you bite your nails, you may be maladjusted. While it's just a bad habit like smoking or chewing gum, psychologists have also discovered that: There are more nail-biters among maladjusted groups, like juvenile delinquents. Nail-biting tends to be "intropunitive", meaning they do it to punish themselves, particularly when frustrated or angry. One out of five biters is a young person. Dr. James C. Coleman, assistant professor of psychology on the UCLA campus, has discovered these tendencies in his research. He has written a book adopted by the U. S. Army for training in psychology. One cure for nail-biting is vigorous exercise, he says.

When he serves as acting-mayor, he is vested with all of the powers of the mayor, except that he cannot remove any appointed officers.

And so, this is a most important office to fill. It requires a man who will not be controlled at every moment by a ruthless political machine, but one who will fearlessly and impartially conduct the meetings of the Common Council, and appoint the various committees of aldermen, in such a fashion that the very best interests of all the people,—not merely one political party—will be served.

He must be able to get along well with other men, whose views and opinions he must respect, and whose rights he must protect.

If I am elected as your alderman-at-large, I will conduct that office without fear of any person. I will follow the dictates of my own conscience, being guided by what I sincerely believe is best for all the people of Kingston.

My business experience and dealings with so many of my fellow citizens over a long period of years has given me a deep insight into many of their problems.

My contacts with the volunteer firemen of this city and county for 10 years has impressed upon me the great value of the work done by this entirely volunteer group. Their contribution to the City of Kingston has been too lightly considered by the present administration. If I should become your alderman-at-large, I will strive for a greater recognition, by all the people, of the splendid contribution the volunteer firemen are making to the safety and well-being of our citizens.

I promise that if you honor me by election to this high office in our city government, the affairs of the Common Council will be carried out in an entirely fair, impartial manner, with the making of a better and finer Kingston my constant goal.

Let us return good government to the City of Kingston. Elect Raymond A. McAndrew as your mayor, and give him the workmen to help him accomplish his program for this city, namely, a Democratic common council, and alderman-at-large.

Decker Is Honored By Central Hudson

John Decker of 632 Broadway, a line foreman of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation, was honored yesterday for 30 years' service to the utility company.

Decker's first job with Central Hudson was as a groundman at Wappingers. Since then he has served as lineman, assistant line foreman and line supervisor.

At a ceremony during which he presented Decker with an emblem, President Ernest R. Acker of the Central Hudson System, said:

"It is a privilege to testify to your fine record of loyal and dependable service and to express my personal appreciation of the contribution you have made to the effective operation of the company's electric distribution department. Throughout the period of your employment you have executed all assignments with competence, perseverence and unfailing cooperation and have won the respect and affection of all of your associates."

Oceanic Earthquakes

There are, on the average, about 50 major earthquakes annually. These are recorded at seismograph stations all over the world. Whether they produce damage depends upon where they occur. A large proportion are under the ocean and, if it were not for the seismographs, we would never know about them.

You, Too?

Los Angeles, (AP)—Hey, if you bite your nails, you may be maladjusted. While it's just a bad habit like smoking or chewing gum, psychologists have also discovered that: There are more nail-biters among maladjusted groups, like juvenile delinquents. Nail-biting tends to be "intropunitive", meaning they do it to punish themselves, particularly when frustrated or angry. One out of five biters is a young person. Dr. James C. Coleman, assistant professor of psychology on the UCLA campus, has discovered these tendencies in his research. He has written a book adopted by the U. S. Army for training in psychology. One cure for nail-biting is vigorous exercise, he says.

wages, the Board of Supervisors recognized the increased cost of living and last year all county employes, except elected officials and department heads, received a cost of living bonus of $240, and it is contemplated that an additional bonus will be granted this year.

The salaries of judicial officers are fixed by state law, however, they must be paid by the county and are included in the county budget. These include the surrogate and the county judge, who is also judge of the children's court.

The amount expended for highway purposes is large, and that is understandable when you realize that we have three hundred and eighty-four miles of excellent county roads in Ulster county. It is also easy to understand that like everything else increasing costs require greater expenditures of highway monies to keep them in proper repair, widen where it is necessary, eliminate bad turns, and keep them clear of ice and snow.

Unfortunately our county highway program suffered a severe setback as a result of floods last fall and winter which damaged our highways and bridges, amounting to upwards of $500,000.

These have to be replaced and that work is progressing at this time, but the cost must be borne by the county. There is an action now pending against the city of New York to recover part payment of these damages, due it is claimed by the county, to the acts of the so-called New York city rain maker.

Resort Areas Aided

Our good county highways are an asset in many ways. They provide good transportation facilities for our own residents and they attract many visitors who come to Ulster county for recreation. As you know, Ulster county is a fast growing resort area. Our lakes, streams and mountains attract thousands of visitors and tourists. Realizing what that means to the people of Ulster county in the way of trade and employment, the Republican Board of Supervisors makes an annual appropriation to assist in publicizing our recreational advantages. As a result of such progressive measures, many millions of dollars were spent in Ulster county during the past season by visitors and tourists. With the development of the Belle Ayre Ski Slope in the town of Shandaken, Ulster county is one of the outstanding winter resort areas in the state. The development of our county resort business increases business in Kingston and provides additional jobs.

The record of the Board of Supervisors in the field of public health in this county is most noteworthy. It has been the policy of the board "good health is our most valuable possession." Our initial venture some years ago was the tuberculosis hospital. It has been said that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Not only are patients cured at this institution but it has accomplished miraculous results in the field of tuberculosis prevention. The established chest clinics both stationary and mobile has done much to diagnose the symptoms in their early stages and then, by proper treatment, recovery is almost assured.

That hospital together with the establishment in 1940 of the county wide public nursing service, which is administered by full time public health nurses, has given our health program a tremendous impetus. Our most recent addition is the tumor clinic, with its most modern facilities making Ulster county outstanding in the field of public health.

Our health department maintains a staff of trained personnel who supervise the preparation, storage, and distribution of the food you eat, the water you drink, as well as sanitary facilities including sewage and drainage.

The county program for the control of rabies is well known to you all. Because of the activity on the part of the Board of Supervisors this dread disease gained practically no ground in this county during the rabies epidemic among foxes and other animals.

Costs Mean Taxes

All of these services however cost money and money means taxes. The Board of Supervisors feels and will continue to feel that the money is well spent as the health of its citizens is paramount.

A new county law went effect January 1, 1951, making many changes in the administration of the affairs of the county, one of which was changing the fiscal year for the county and making it the same as the calendar year, January 1 to December 31. Heretofore most of the departments of our county as well as the other counties of the state had been operating on a November 1 to October 31 fiscal year. Because of this change it became necessary to adopt a budget to include two additional months. In other words the budget for the fiscal year 1951 was for 14 months instead of 12.

Job Well Done

Your board of supervisors have done their duty well, and are fully aware that every dollar they appropriate and levy on the taxable property of this county comes from their pocketbooks as well as yours. Any increase in the county budget is felt by all. The taxpayers in Kingston pay their share of the cost of county government in addition to the cost of their city government, and likewise the taxpayers in the several towns outside the city maintain their own town government as well as sharing the county budget. So to you folks here in Kingston, if your tax bill is higher than a previous year, it can well be that the increase was due in part to a higher county budget. The city of Kingston pays about 1/3 of the total cost of county government.

The administration of all forms of public assistance which includes 1. old age; 2. aid to blind; 3. aid to dependent children; 4. aid to permanently and totally disabled; 5. home relief; 6. child welfare; 7. county infirmary and county home, are under the direct supervision of the Department of Public Welfare. Like everything else, the increased cost of living is reflected in the increased cost of assistance rendered to the people of this county. About 25 per cent of the total county budget is allocated to the Department of Public Welfare for assistance and care of needy persons.

If you want a continuation of the kind of government found in Ulster county you may have it by voting for the Republican candidate for supervisor in your ward or town. These men have all proven their ability and their experience gained in that legislative body makes them invaluable. They should be retained in office. Those candidates who are making their first appearance in the political arena are men who have been wisely chosen for their ability and honesty. They will truly represent their towns or wards. Therefore to insure good government in Ulster county for the next two years, vote row "A" all the way.

Shotgun Blast Causes Arrest

The discharge of a 12-gauge, double barrel shotgun last night resulted in the arrest of Marshall Byrd, 28, of 218 Catherine street, on a disorderly conduct charge.

City Judge Raymond J. Mino imposed a suspended sentence of $10 fine or 10 days in jail when Byrd appeared before him today.

The arrest followed a report to the police at 11:23 p. m., from 246 Catherine street saying that a fight was in progress and some shots were fired.

Three patrol cars were dispatched to the area and Byrd was arrested by Officers Gurnsey Burger, Jr., and Louis Sapp, Jr. The information charged that the gun was discharged "recklessly and without necessity...causing a crowd to gather."

Police said Byrd claimed the gun discharged accidentally and that he complained that he had been struck near an eye with a fork, while attending a gathering on Catherine street. Details of the reported altercation were not given, but Lt. William Leonard said Byrd's statement made mention of his being struck with a fork by another man.

North Korean Kid Soldier

With the First Marine Division in Korea (AP) — Escorting one North Korean prisoner to the rear was like taking a 13-year-old orphan for a walk in the park and climaxing the outing with an ice cream cone. He was just a kid; no bigger than 10-year-old boys in your neighborhood. The mascot-sized soldier had deserted from the North Korean People's Army believing that Americans would not mistreat him. He carried a Russian-type rifle 2 inches taller than he.

(Desirable Amendment)

Editor, The Freeman:

Amendment No. 3 deserves a "Yes" vote by every citizen on Election Day, and I believe that the reasons for the "Yes" vote becomes readily apparent as the purpose of the amendment is understood.

Approval of amendment No. 3 means simply that your representative in the legislature will have the power to increase pensions of retired, disabled and aged members of public pension systems. These disabled or aged citizens now retired now receive pensions based upon purchasing power of the dollar as it was prior to war and post-war years.

Legislators and other citizens generally agree that because of the higher cost of living, wages and dividends should be increased, but the language of the Constitution does not permit the legislators to increase the pensions of retired persons. The Federal Government and many private corporations have increased the pensions of their retired workers. The Federal Social Security System—which has never been open to civil service workers in New York state—has increased its benefits to retired wage earners. There is every reason to believe that legislators, if given the power, will act wisely and justly in dealing with such a problem.

Today, there are retired public employes, teachers and others, who after 20, 30 or more years of service, are receiving pensions of $40 to $60 per month. With our present dollars having buying power of only 53 cents each, the tragedy of trying to live on such incomes is immediately clear.

We all have a responsibility to the aged. We know how helpless they are politically to present their side of this question of need for food, housing, medical, hospital and other cares. By voting "Yes" on Amendment No. 3 we can show our rightful concern for their welfare and happiness.

Very truly yours,
JAMES P. MARTIN,

Week of July 21 Is Set for Big Events InCityCelebration

The week of July 21, 1952, was set aside for a series of major events in connection with the celebration of Kingston's 300th Anniversary. This will be the week during which important events will be planned to attract visitors and former residents.

This decision was made at a meeting of the executive committee in the Governor Clinton Hotel, Wednesday night and announced by President Stanley J. Matthews today. This completes the establishment of major dates for functions to be sponsored directly by the tercentenary group. Several related events have already been announced, but it is expected that many more will take place.

The major dates and events as now established are: January 5 and 6, the committee will suggest special religious services throughout Kingston and Ulster county; June 5, 1952, celebration of 300th anniversary of the deeding of land here to Thomas Chambers and the settlement of Kingston; July 4, a military and patriotic celebration; the week of July 21, will be Tercentenary Week and on September 10, the 175th anniversary of the founding of the state government. If Queen Juliana should find it possible to accept the invitation to visit Kingston in April another major function date will be established.

More Chairmen

Additional appointments of chairmen of important committees were made by President Matthews today including: Mrs. Allan L. Hanstein as chairman of the old stone house visitation committee; Bernhardt S. Kramer, chairman of the July 4 celebration. the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, chairman of the religious evenis committee and John D. Schoonmaker, Jr. chairman of the finance ways and means committee. There are still several committee chairman appointments to be made.

Within a few days the chairman of a membership committee will be announced and a drive will be organized to raise the necessary funds to underwrite the expenses of the celebration. In the meantime each committee chairman is being asked to prepare definite plans and prepare an estimate of the funds needed. At the present time the exact amount of money required has not been established.

It is planned to have another executive committee meeting next Wednesday night to discuss more definite plans with one or more of the major committee heads.

President Matthews stated, "Most of the preliminary organization work has now been completed for the 300th anniversary celebration. Although it took longer than expected to complete we are now ready to proceed more rapidly with the details of the various activities planned."

Billingsley's Comment

New York, Nov. 1 (AP)—Sherman Billingsley, proprietor of the fashionable Stork Club, answered a city committee probing alleged discourtesy to Negro singer Josephine Baker by saying yesterday: "Our policy is to cater to a clientele made up of the peoples of the world, giving preference always where possible, naturally, to those who have patronized us through the years." Billingsley's statement came at the request of Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri's committee on unity. The committee has been investigating Miss Baker's charge that she was discriminated against at the Stork Club on Oct. 16.

A chain of towns in the Ruhr valley of Germany is called the "Wuppertal" (witches' valley) because of the eerie glare of its steel mills.

Agnes Thurin Weds J. F. Hartmann, Jr., October 27 at St. Joseph's Church

Miss Agnes Gertrude Thurin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Thurin, 16 Prospect street, was married to Joseph Francis Hartmann, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hartmann, Sr., Port Ewen, in St. Joseph's Church, Saturday, Oct. 27 at 10 a.m. Following the double ring ceremony at which the Rev. John D. Simmons officiated, the couple attended a nuptial Mass. A wedding breakfast was given for the families of the bride and groom with a reception later for 100 guests at the Roseland.

Traditional organ music was played by Mrs. Frank Rafferty. The soloist, Yolanda Modica, sang "On This Day O Beautiful Mother," "Ave Maria," "Mother Beloved" and "O Lord I Am Not Worthy." The church was decorated with palms and yellow and white chrysanthemums.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white skinner satin gown with fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves and full train. A braided satin coronet held her shoulder length veil and she carried a prayer book covered with white mums, white ribbons and fern.

Miss Mary Thurin was her sister's maid of honor. Her ballet length gown had a fitted velveteen bodice, nylon tulle skirt and velveteen jacket. She carried a loose cascade of orchid pompons.

The Misses Jean Brandt and Sara DeBello of this city were the bridesmaids. Their gowns, in jewel tones, emerald and garnet, were styled as the maid of honor's and they carried loose cascades of yellow pompons. The honor attendants wore shell hats and mitts to match their gowns.

John Hartmann, Brooklyn, was his brother's best man. The ushers were Donald M. Hastings, Candor, and Philip Feeney of this city.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to include upper New York state, Canada and New England, the couple will reside at 67 Smith avenue. For traveling the bride wore a charcoal grey suit with grey and black accessories and a corsage of white pompons.

Mrs. Hartmann was graduated from St. Joseph's School and the Academy of Saint Ursula and is employed by Colony Liquor Distributors, Inc.

Mr. Hartmann is a graduate of St. Francis School, Brooklyn, and Kingston High School and is employed by Hercules Powder company, Port Ewen.

Dr. Scranton Reviews Experiences During His Pastorate in England

Dr. Walter L. Scranton, pastor of the Memorial Methodist Church in White Plains, who recently returned from a call to an exchange pastorate in Nottingham, England, reviewed experiences and impressions gained in that country when he addressed a large audience at the annual Fellowship supper meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild and the WSCS of St. James Methodist Church on Monday evening.

He expressed his pleasure in the large congregations, numbering as many as two thousand persons, he had in Albert Hall, Nottingham. They represented he felt a cross section of the population.

Social Conditions

Many of his remarks were concerned with the social conditions the people in England are now facing. Though reserved, Dr. Scranton found the English people to be very hospitable and he observed that the younger generation seems more mature than our own young people and, unlike the general custom here, the English teach their children to care for a home and family. He was impressed with the healthfulness of the children and said, "the Labor government has seen to it that they have the proper food, medicine and care. They seem to be rugged and happy."

Workers Apathy Told

With regard to production in England, the speaker had this to say, "there is an apathy . . . even the workers say they are not turning out all they should." He attributed this to the high taxes and the fact that "the richer you are, the less profits you are apt to have."

Two wars have left England bruised and tired and the resulting scars are to be found everywhere, Dr. Scranton told his listeners.

Nottingham is the home of many of England's great industries, particularly the drug industry. There, boys are permitted to go to work at the age of fifteen, however, all youths between that age and eighteen are allowed a forty-hour week and it is compulsory for them to spend eight hours in study each week at a college or school where the courses are practical and where they must learn the art of living. "There seems to be a new respect for the way industry is becoming standardized," said Dr. Scranton.

Dispels Absurd Ideas

Those present heard of the absurd ideas he found to exist with regard to Americans, and which he immediately dispelled. Among the questions raised by the English people he came in contact with were with regard to the "persecution of the Negroes," "the drug problem in high schools" and the "reasons why Americans were so anxious for another war."

It was brought home to him during his visit in England, he asserted in concluding his talk, "that the moral temper of our world is changing. Our nation has championed the oppressed but today we are looked upon as the oppressors in the world." And referring to the English people, he said, "they see the setting of their sun and know they can never again be what they once were and they are irritated. Beyond all these irritations, they want to be with us and with us make their contribution. We should ask ourselves, if we had the same conditions, could we manage as well?"

Miss Jeanne VanNess Wed in Sawkill to Albert Maggiore

The marriage of Miss Jeanne Rose VanNess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham VanNess, 142 Wall street, to Albert Maggiore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Maggiore, Sr., Onteora Trail, this city, took place Sunday afternoon at 2:30 in St. Ann's R. C. Church, Sawkill. The Rev. James A. Dunnigan, pastor, officiated at the ceremony. A reception and dinner for members of the families was held at The Barn following the ceremony.

Traditional organ music was played by James Sweeney. The altar of the church was decorated with white chrysanthemums and there were white ribbon markers on the pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballet length gown of alencon lace over white bridal satin with a fitted bodice, small jacket of scalloped lace and a bouffant skirt. Her finger tip silk illusion veil fell from a half bonnet of satin and net. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Floyd Halwick, Lake Katrine, was her sister's matron of honor. She was dressed in a frost rose gown of velveteen and nylon net made with basque bodice and full skirt. Her costume was completed with a net stole and matching transparent braid cloche. She carried a bouquet of pink pompons and ivy.

Paul Maggiore, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Robert Maggiore, brother of the groom and Floyd Halwick, brother-in-law of the bride.

On their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Maggiore will travel through New York state. For traveling, the bride wore a brown tailored suit with brown accessories.

FRANKNESS PERMISSIBLE

A letter today says: "I was married about two months ago and received many lovely wedding presents. One present, which was rather expensive, was a duplicate, and the person who gave it to me suggested that I give it back to her and that she would exchange it while we were on our wedding trip. She asked me what I would like to have in its place and I told her we needed an electric iron. We have been home now for quite some time and have seen this friend twice but nothing has been said about the present. We need this iron very badly and I don't know whether to go out and buy one or not. My husband thinks I should say something to her about it as perhaps she did send it and we never received it. I think it would embarrass her if I mentioned it. Will you please tell me what to do?"

I think your husband's suggestion is the proper one. Take it for granted that she ordered it and she will want to know why the store hasn't sent it.

Gifts for Boy Friend

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been going out quite steadily with a young man for the past six months. His birthday is coming soon and I would like very much to give him a present. My mother doesn't think that I should since he has never given me a present, and that a birthday card would be sufficient. He has taken me to very nice places and I think the least I can do to show my appreciation is to give him a present on his birthday. Will you please tell me if this would be proper, and if so, what type gift would you suggest?

Answer: I think considering the fact that he has given you many invitations, a present on his birthday will be proper. As a suggestion knitted socks (if you knit well); a book (if you know of one that he really wants to read); a billfold, a pipe, cigarette case, a tie, or almost anything except jewelry.

Parsley

Dear Mrs. Post: When a piece of parsley is served on the plate with the food, may this be eaten, or is it merely for decoration purposes?

Answer: It is intended for decoration but it is not improper to eat it if you would like to.

Is it proper to use colored table linen? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but answers to questions about table linen, silver, and table setting are included in booklet No. 504, "Table Setting." To obtain a copy send 25 cents in coin to her, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

(Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

It's a good idea to apply a thin coat of oil or grease to an iron skillet after it is washed and dried and before it is put away. This will insure against rust.

Dr. Scranton Reviews Experiences During His Pastorate in England

Dr. Walter L. Scranton, pastor of the Memorial Methodist Church in White Plains, who recently returned from a call to an exchange pastorate in Nottingham, England, reviewed experiences and impressions gained in that country when he addressed a large audience at the annual Fellowship supper meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild and the WSCS of St. James Methodist Church on Monday evening.

He expressed his pleasure in the large congregations, numbering as many as two thousand persons, he had in Albert Hall, Nottingham. They represented he felt a cross section of the population.

Social Conditions

Many of his remarks were concerned with the social conditions the people in England are now facing. Though reserved, Dr. Scranton found the English people to be very hospitable and he observed that the younger generation seems more mature than our own young people and, unlike the general custom here, the English teach their children to care for a home and family. He was impressed with the healthfulness of the children and said, "the Labor government has seen to it that they have the proper food, medicine and care. They seem to be rugged and happy."

Workers Apathy Told

With regard to production in England, the speaker had this to say, "there is an apathy . . . even the workers say they are not turning out all they should." He attributed this to the high taxes and the fact that "the richer you are, the less profits you are apt to have."

Two wars have left England bruised and tired and the resulting scars are to be found everywhere, Dr. Scranton told his listeners.

Nottingham is the home of many of England's great industries, particularly the drug industry. There, boys are permitted to go to work at the age of fifteen, however, all youths between that age and eighteen are allowed a forty-hour week and it is compulsory for them to spend eight hours in study each week at a college or school where the courses are practical and where they must learn the art of living. "There seems to be a new respect for the way industry is becoming standardized," said Dr. Scranton.

Dispels Absurd Ideas

Those present heard of the absurd ideas he found to exist with regard to Americans, and which he immediately dispelled. Among the questions raised by the English people he came in contact with were with regard to the "persecution of the Negroes," "the drug problem in high schools" and the "reasons why Americans were so anxious for another war."

It was brought home to him during his visit in England, he asserted in concluding his talk, "that the moral temper of our world is changing. Our nation has championed the oppressed but today we are looked upon as the oppressors in the world." And referring to the English people, he said, "they see the setting of their sun and know they can never again be what they once were and they are irritated. Beyond all these irritations, they want to be with us and with us make their contribution. We should ask ourselves, if we had the same conditions, could we manage as well?"

Miss Jeanne VanNess Wed in Sawkill to Albert Maggiore

The marriage of Miss Jeanne Rose VanNess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham VanNess, 142 Wall street, to Albert Maggiore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Maggiore, Sr., Onteora Trail, this city, took place Sunday afternoon at 2:30 in St. Ann's R. C. Church, Sawkill. The Rev. James A. Dunnigan, pastor, officiated at the ceremony. A reception and dinner for members of the families was held at The Barn following the ceremony.

Traditional organ music was played by James Sweeney. The altar of the church was decorated with white chrysanthemums and there were white ribbon markers on the pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballet length gown of alencon lace over white bridal satin with a fitted bodice, small jacket of scalloped lace and a bouffant skirt. Her finger tip silk illusion veil fell from a half bonnet of satin and net. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Floyd Halwick, Lake Katrine, was her sister's matron of honor. She was dressed in a frost rose gown of velveteen and nylon net made with basque bodice and full skirt. Her costume was completed with a net stole and matching transparent braid cloche. She carried a bouquet of pink pompons and ivy.

Paul Maggiore, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Robert Maggiore, brother of the groom and Floyd Halwick, brother-in-law of the bride.

On their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Maggiore will travel through New York state. For traveling, the bride wore a brown tailored suit with brown accessories.

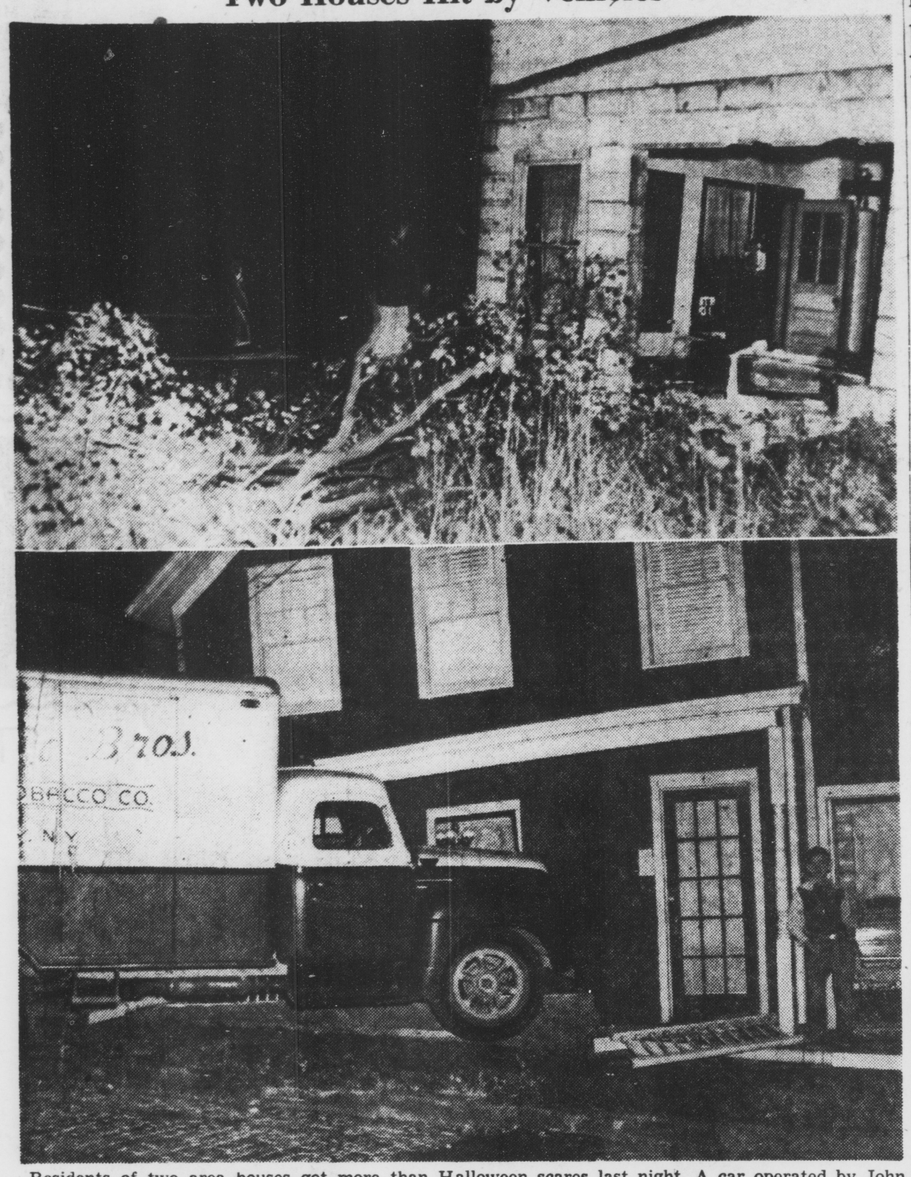
Two Houses Hit by Vehicles



Residents of two area houses got more than Halloween scares last night. A car operated by John Farrell, 30, R.D. Saugerties, crashed into a house owned by John Licardo, along Route 9W two miles north of Kingston at 5:45 p. m., last night, and a truck owned by the Dearstyne Brothers, of Albany, crashed into the Grover Haley house on Hasbrouck avenue. State Police said the Farrell car, headed north, went off the concrete onto a shoulder and crashed the house as the driver attemtped to get it back on the road. It crossed to the west side, rolled over, struck the building, continued in a spin, went up on a well and came to rest back of the building. The driver was not injured seriously, the report said. (James Anner photo, top) (Beichert photo, bottom.)

Halloween Proves

Smith avnue and Downs street, and a 50-gallon drum of cleaning fluid was rolled into the center of Dederick street.

Police patrolled the city in full force with every available extra on duty, and menacing groups of youngsters were dispersed in various parts of the city. A group throwing stones at houses on Wrentham street, broke a street light, and others committed less damaging bits of mischief.

Many younger groups made early visits from house to house in their neighborhood where they were given candy and fruit, and at some houses—that of Officer Gurnsey Burger, Jr., for instance—they found special Halloween decorations and sound effects.

Reports From County

A jack-o-lantern that directed traffic in Stone Ridge and an outside toilet moved to the road in Connelly were among the Halloween pranks in Ulster county Wednesday night.

Undersheriff Clayton Vredenburg reported a large pumpkin, lighted with a candle, held forth in the middle of the highway at the junction of the Atwood road in Stone Ridge. Motorists dutifully slowed and passed to either side of it.

Of a more malicious nature was a report that pranksters moved an outside toilet from a Connelly property, put it in the roadway. The toilet was broken in the process, according to a report made to the sheriff's office.

Another report was received that blue paint was smeared on a house at St. Remy. Air was let out of tires of automobiles parked in Phoenicia. A sign on a front lawn in Port Ewen was smeared with paint.

From Binnewater, a woman reported her son's bicycle was broken by other youngsters.

Three Patrols Active

The sheriff's office had three cars with deputies patrolling sections of the county. Reports of minor damage were also received from High Falls, Eddyville and Rifton, as well as in Highland, where troopers reported mailboxes turned over and other minor pranks.

In Hurley village street signs were bent over and defaced.

Chief Joe Dyer of Ulster Hose Company No. 5, reported a fire in brush and leaves opposite the hangar at the Kingston-Ulster Airport. The blaze was apparently set as a prank and gave the firemen little difficulty. There was no damage to surrounding buildings.

Proposes Civil Service

Washington, Nov. 1 (AP)—The White House announced today President Truman will recommend to Congress that collectors of internal revenue be brought under civil service. The announcement was made after Frank E. McKinney, Indianapolis banker and the new Democratic national chairman recommended such a step to the President. McKinney in a letter said earlier the President had asked him to help see the federal service "be maintained at the highest standards of integrity and ability and with spotless honor."

Police Shoot Man In Knife Threat

New York, Nov. 1 (AP)—Police tried unsuccessfully today to disarm a man they said was waving two knives at pedestrians and then shot and killed him.

Papers in his pockets bore the name of Juan Ortiz, 40, of 1029 Faile street, the Bronx.

Patrolman John Perwinç, 39, of 2383 Morgan avenue, the Bronx, suffered a slight abdomen wound when struck by a police bullet that ricocheted off a building.

Police were summoned by alarmed pedestrians who were darting away from the man on Southern boulevard, near 163rd street, the Bronx.

Patrolman Sherman Murray tried to knock the knives from the man's hands with a nightstick. Other police hurled bottles, clubs and raincoats at his arms, all without success.

The police said that when they closed in on him in a doorway he threatened to stab them and that Patrolman James Poulos fired. The bullet bounced back and hit Perwinc.

Poulos fired a second time and the man fell dead with a wound in the stomach.

Truck Hits House

sult of the mishap and was treated by a doctor. She said he shut off the oil burner as soon as he realized what had happened.

Mrs. Haley was visiting at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. James Kiernan, 9 Hasbrouck avenue, at the time. She said today that if she had not been out of the house, she and her husband would have been sitting as usual in the living room near the wall where the truck crashed.

The police report indicated that the driver, Braman, had trouble with the truck and had left it parked to make a telephone call.

Officers Walter Fitzgerald and James Burns investigated.

Demolition Expert

With the First Marine Division in Korea (AP)—A young North Korean girl, who admitted mining several roads behind the Marine lines on the east-central front, was captured by Korean Marines in a hut containing several cases of dynamite. A South Korean captain became suspicious of her well-fed appearance and clean clothing in a land where rags and starvation are the rule. A search of the hut revealed the dynamite and she confessed being a trained Communist demolition agent.

Sales Tax 3 Million Short

New York, Nov. 1 (AP)—New York city's sales tax, increased from two to three per cent last May 1, returned disappointing revenues in the first quarter of the fiscal year beginning July 1. Official tabulations showed collections for the period were $3,000,000 short of the anticipated returns. City officials had hoped the higher tax rate would yield $15,000,000 more each quarter. The first quarter yield was only $11,889.65 more.

$31,000 From Parking

The city treasurer's office today reported a total of $3,650 collected from the city's parking meters in October. This was $650 more than in September and $350 more than in October, 1950. The total collected to date this year is $31,100.

Upstate Storm

in central New York, Miss Beatrice Babbitt, 18, of Scipio Center, was injured fatally in a two-car crash on a slushy road. Two other women were hurt in the same crash. They were Mrs. Edward R. McCormick, 21, also of Scipio Center, and Mrs. Frank B. Avery, 23, of Aurora.

End Is Forecast

The Weather Bureau said the snowstorm, mixed with sleet or rain, would taper off during the day and end early this evening.

Freezing or near-freezing weather prevailed generally upstate, but warm ground caused the snow to melt rapidly in many sections.

Flurries fell in Buffalo and Rochester. The storm in Syracuse was described as light.

State police urged motorists to drive carefully because of the sloppy condition of many highways.

Two inches of snow were reported on the ground in Glens Falls and Oneonta and one inch at Albany, Binghamton and Dansville.

The Weather Bureau said the snowfall in Albany was the heaviest on record for this early in the season. The previous high was eight-tenths of an inch on Oct. 10, 1925.

Recommendations Made to Improve Education System

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 1 (AP)—Proposals to streamline the state's educational high command by drastically realigning the Board of Regents will be submitted to the 1952 Legislature.

Senator Walter J. Mahoney, chairman of New York's "Little Hoover" Commission to Coordinate State Activities, today announced 28 recommendations "designed to improve the functions" of the Regents.

The gist of the program is that the Regents, governing body of the state education system, be divested of many administrative powers and become chiefly a planning and policy-making body.

The Mahoney commission also recommended that the state commissioner of education, Dr. Lewis A. Wilson, be given greater administrative authority and the right to hire and fire all appointive officers without regents' approval, except for four top-level aides.

The commission proposed that the Board of Regents be increased from 13 to 15 members, that their terms be reduced from 13 to 10 years, and that the governor be empowered to appoint five regents-at-large.

All regents now are elected by the Legislature. Ten represent each of the 10 judicial districts of the state and three are selected as regents-at-large.

Want More Women

The commission further recommended election of more women to the Board of Regents.

It also called for a statutory ban, by 1960, against more than two-thirds of the regents being members of one political party.

There now is one woman regent, Mrs. Frank E. Gannett of Rochester. Twelve of the 13 regents are Republicans.

The commission recommended that regents be ineligible for re-election if they have served one full term or more than five years of an unexpired term.

There now is a 70-year-old age limit, but no restriction on the number of terms a regent may serve before reaching the mandatory retirement age.

The Mahoney group proposed that no regent be elected or appointed unless he could serve half a term before reaching 70.

Mahoney, a Buffalo Republican, said some commission recommendations could be achieved by administrative action within the education department and others would require legislative action.

Will Consider Plans

The legislation will be drafted, he added, only after the proposals have been given the widest consideration by educational, legislative, and civic groups.

A high source in the education department indicated several weeks ago that the Regents would go along with most of the Mahoney commission's streamlining proposals but wanted no part of the recommendation that the governor be allowed to appoint five board members, subject to state Senate approval.

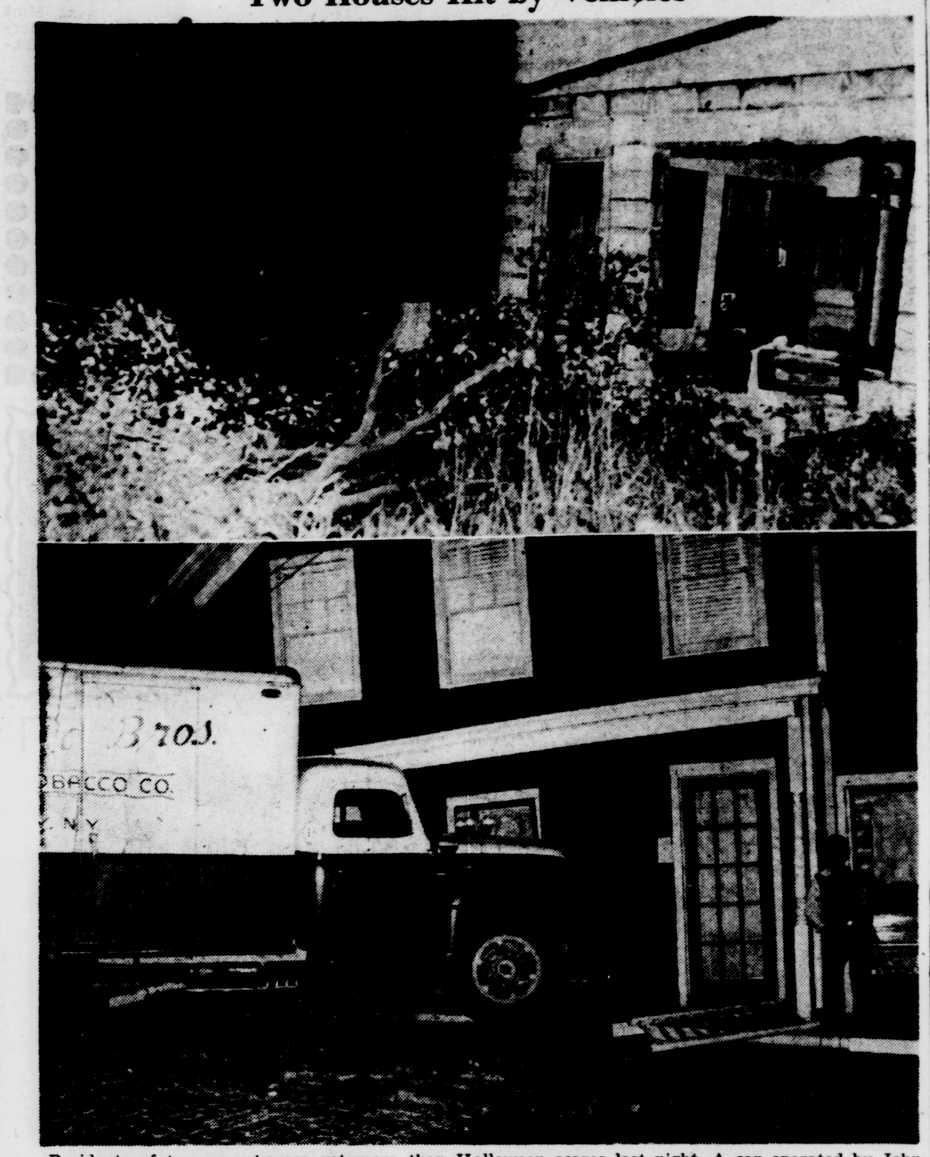
Two Houses Hit by Vehicles



Residents of two area houses got more than Halloween scares last night. A car operated by John Farrell, 30, R.D. Saugerties, crashed into a house owned by John Licardo, along Route 9W two miles north of Kingston at 5:45 p. m., last night, and a truck owned by the Dearstyne Brothers, of Albany, crashed into the Grover Haley house on Hasbrouck avenue. State Police said the Farrell car, headed north, went off the concrete onto a shoulder and crashed the house as the driver attemtped to get it back on the road. It crossed to the west side, rolled over, struck the building, continued in a spin, went up on a well and came to rest back of the building. The driver was not injured seriously, the report said. Halloween Proves

Smith avnue and Downs street, and a 50-gallon drum of cleaning fluid was rolled into the center of Dederick street.

Police patrolled the city in full force with every available extra on duty, and menacing groups of youngsters were dispersed in various parts of the city. A group throwing stones at houses on Wrentham street, broke a street light, and others committed less damaging bits of mischief.

Many younger groups made early visits from house to house in their neighborhood where they were given candy and fruit, and at some houses—that of Officer Gurnsey Burger, Jr., for instance—they found special Halloween decorations and sound effects.

Reports From County

A jack-o-lantern that directed traffic in Stone Ridge and an outside toilet moved to the road in Connelly were among the Halloween pranks in Ulster county Wednesday night.

Undersheriff Clayton Vredenburg reported a large pumpkin, lighted with a candle, held forth in the middle of the highway at the junction of the Atwood road in Stone Ridge. Motorists dutifully slowed and passed to either side of it.

Of a more malicious nature was a report that pranksters moved an outside toilet from a Connelly property, put it in the roadway. The toilet was broken in the process, according to a report made to the sheriff's office.

Another report was received that blue paint was smeared on a house at St. Remy. Air was let out of tires of automobiles parked in Phoenicia. A sign on a front lawn in Port Ewen was smeared with paint.

From Binnewater, a woman reported her son's bicycle was broken by other youngsters.

Three Patrols Active

The sheriff's office had three cars with deputies patrolling sections of the county. Reports of minor damage were also received from High Falls, Eddyville and Rifton, as well as in Highland, where troopers reported mailboxes turned over and other minor pranks.

In Hurley village street signs were bent over and defaced.

Chief Joe Dyer of Ulster Hose Company No. 5, reported a fire in brush and leaves opposite the hangar at the Kingston-Ulster Airport. The blaze was apparently set as a prank and gave the firemen little difficulty. There was no damage to surrounding buildings.

Proposes Civil Service

Washington, Nov. 1 (AP)—The White House announced today President Truman will recommend to Congress that collectors of internal revenue be brought under civil service. The announcement was made after Frank E. McKinney, Indianapolis banker and the new Democratic national chairman recommended such a step to the President. McKinney in a letter said earlier the President had asked him to help see the federal service "be maintained at the highest standards of integrity and ability and with spotless honor."

Police Shoot Man In Knife Threat

New York, Nov. 1 (AP)—Police tried unsuccessfully today to disarm a man they said was waving two knives at pedestrians and then shot and killed him.

Papers in his pockets bore the name of Juan Ortiz, 40, of 1029 Faile street, the Bronx.

Patrolman John Perwinç, 39, of 2383 Morgan avenue, the Bronx, suffered a slight abdomen wound when struck by a police bullet that ricocheted off a building.

Police were summoned by alarmed pedestrians who were darting away from the man on Southern boulevard, near 163rd street, the Bronx.

Patrolman Sherman Murray tried to knock the knives from the man's hands with a nightstick. Other police hurled bottles, clubs and raincoats at his arms, all without success.

The police said that when they closed in on him in a doorway he threatened to stab them and that Patrolman James Poulos fired. The bullet bounced back and hit Perwinc.

Poulos fired a second time and the man fell dead with a wound in the stomach.

Truck Hits House

sult of the mishap and was treated by a doctor. She said he shut off the oil burner as soon as he realized what had happened.

Mrs. Haley was visiting at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. James Kiernan, 9 Hasbrouck avenue, at the time. She said today that if she had not been out of the house, she and her husband would have been sitting as usual in the living room near the wall where the truck crashed.

The police report indicated that the driver, Braman, had trouble with the truck and had left it parked to make a telephone call.

Officers Walter Fitzgerald and James Burns investigated.

Demolition Expert

With the First Marine Division in Korea (AP)—A young North Korean girl, who admitted mining several roads behind the Marine lines on the east-central front, was captured by Korean Marines in a hut containing several cases of dynamite. A South Korean captain became suspicious of her well-fed appearance and clean clothing in a land where rags and starvation are the rule. A search of the hut revealed the dynamite and she confessed being a trained Communist demolition agent.

Sales Tax 3 Million Short

New York, Nov. 1 (AP)—New York city's sales tax, increased from two to three per cent last May 1, returned disappointing revenues in the first quarter of the fiscal year beginning July 1. Official tabulations showed collections for the period were $3,000,000 short of the anticipated returns. City officials had hoped the higher tax rate would yield $15,000,000 more each quarter. The first quarter yield was only $11,889.65 more.

$31,080 From Parking

The city treasurer's office today reported a total of $3,650 collected from the city's parking meters in October. This was $650 more than in September and $350 more than in October, 1950. The total collected to date this year is $31,100.

Upstate Storm

in central New York, Miss Beatrice Babbitt, 18, of Scipio Center, was injured fatally in a two-car crash on a slushy road. Two other women were hurt in the same crash. They were Mrs. Edward R. McCormick, 21, also of Scipio Center, and Mrs. Frank B. Avery, 23, of Aurora.

End Is Forecast

The Weather Bureau said the snowstorm, mixed with sleet or rain, would taper off during the day and end early this evening.

Freezing or near-freezing weather prevailed generally upstate, but warm ground caused the snow to melt rapidly in many sections.

Flurries fell in Buffalo and Rochester. The storm in Syracuse was described as light.

State police urged motorists to drive carefully because of the sloppy condition of many highways.

Two inches of snow were reported on the ground in Glens Falls and Oneonta and one inch at Albany, Binghamton and Dansville.

The Weather Bureau said the snowfall in Albany was the heaviest on record for this early in the season. The previous high was eight-tenths of an inch on Oct. 10, 1925.

Recommendations Made to Improve Education System

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 1 (AP)—Proposals to streamline the state's educational high command by drastically realigning the Board of Regents will be submitted to the 1952 Legislature.

Senator Walter J. Mahoney, chairman of New York's "Little Hoover" Commission to Coordinate State Activities, today announced 28 recommendations "designed to improve the functions" of the Regents.

The gist of the program is that the Regents, governing body of the state education system, be divested of many administrative powers and become chiefly a planning and policy-making body.

The Mahoney commission also recommended that the state commissioner of education, Dr. Lewis A. Wilson, be given greater administrative authority and the right to hire and fire all appointive officers without regents' approval, except for four top-level aides.

The commission proposed that the Board of Regents be increased from 13 to 15 members, that their terms be reduced from 13 to 10 years, and that the governor be empowered to appoint five regents-at-large.

All regents now are elected by the Legislature. Ten represent each of the 10 judicial districts of the state and three are selected as regents-at-large.

Want More Women

The commission further recommended election of more women to the Board of Regents.

It also called for a statutory ban, by 1960, against more than two-thirds of the regents being members of one political party.

There now is one woman regent, Mrs. Frank E. Gannett of Rochester. Twelve of the 13 regents are Republicans.

The commission recommended that regents be ineligible for re-election if they have served one full term or more than five years of an unexpired term.

There now is a 70-year-old age limit, but no restriction on the number of terms a regent may serve before reaching the mandatory retirement age.

The Mahoney group proposed that no regent be elected or appointed unless he could serve half a term before reaching 70.

Mahoney, a Buffalo Republican, said some commission recommendations could be achieved by administrative action within the education department and others would require legislative action.

Will Consider Plans

The legislation will be drafted, he added, only after the proposals have been given the widest consideration by educational, legislative, and civic groups.

A high source in the education department indicated several weeks ago that the Regents would go along with most of the Mahoney commission's streamlining proposals but wanted no part of the recommendation that the governor be allowed to appoint five board members, subject to state Senate approval.

Illinois, Tennessee, Princeton Picked to Win Major Contests

ND, Wisconsin Baylor Other Picks

New York, Nov. 1 (AP)—A party bore and a football are the same thing—just a bag of wind.

Here are winners of the coming weekend's football games:

Illinois over Michigan: Both are undefeated in the Big Ten this season and neither apparently is as strong as its record indicates. Karras of Illinois, already has scored 10 touchdowns this season and needs only three more to tie the mark first set by Grange. He'll get enough points in this game to beat Michigan.

Tennessee over North Carolina: Even its flock of injuries, Tennessee is favored over a North Carolina team that hasn't reached its full potential.

Princeton over Brown: The nation's longest current winning streak goes to 19, unless Princeton has spent all week relieving that tremendous victory over Cornell.

Baylor over Texas Christian: Larry Isbell, the Baylor star, is just as good as he needs to be. That should pull the Baylors through.

Notre Dame over Navy: The Irish may be predominately freshmen and sophomores but they know their way around, especially if their playground is a foolball field.

Alabama over Georgia: Two of the season's biggest disappointments try to salvage something.

Wisconsin over Indiana: Wisconsin boasts the strongest defense in the nation and Bob Robertson, one of Indiana's best backs, just has been drafted by Uncle Sam.

Texas over Southern Methodist: This should be every bit as good as last year's 23 to 20 thriller, won by Texas.

Georgia Tech over Duke: That defensive platoon of the Georgians is a beauty.

Maryland over Missouri: Maryland seems headed for the Sugar Bowl and this season Missouri hasn't been headed anywhere.

California over UCLA: California is a two-touchdown favorite but it could be much, much closer.

Southern California over Army: If the Trojans "want" this game it could become a young massacre.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:

Williams and Greco Battle to Draw

Baltimore, Nov. 1 (AP)—Johnny Greco, Canadian welterweight champion, and Don Williams of Worcester, Mass., fought to a 10-round draw last night when the judges and the referee couldn't agree on the outcome.

The fast-moving bout, which drew only a small crowd here, was broadcast and telecast coast-to-coast on CBS networks. Only 215 attended the fight.

Referee Eddie Leonard scored it 5 and 4 for Williams, with one round even. Judge Bill Ellis gave Greco the advantage, 5-3 with two rounds even, and Judge Benny Goldstein called it even at five rounds each.

Silsbys, Accord Win In Y League

Silsby Motors stalled the Accord Chevies, 49-37, and Esopus Firemen survived a last quarter threat by the "50" Club to win 57-55 in last night's Y Autumn League basketball games.

The Motormen moved away in the stretch after leading 29-26 at the three-quarter mark. Rundle scored 16 points and Dederick had 11 for the winners. Ebert's 11 topped the Chevies.

The "50" Club trailed Silsby's by 12 points at the start of the fourth quarter but abandoned their defensive tactics to close the gap to two points at the finish.

Overamphasis on defense forced the "50" Club into numerous fouls and that's what cost them the ball game. They outscored the Firemen, 26-20, from the field but a 17-3 margin in foul conversions accounted for the Esopus triumph.

Wilson paced Esopus with 18 points and Burger scored 11. Daley and Burris scored 15 and 14 respectively for the "50" Club.

Illinois, Tennessee, Princeton Picked to Win Major Contests

ND, Wisconsin Baylor Other Picks

New York, Nov. 1 (AP)—A party bore and a football are the same thing—just a bag of wind.

Here are winners of the coming weekend's football games:

Illinois over Michigan: Both are undefeated in the Big Ten this season and neither apparently is as strong as its record indicates. Karras of Illinois, already has scored 10 touchdowns this season and needs only three more to tie the mark first set by Grange. He'll get enough points in this game to beat Michigan.

Tennessee over North Carolina: Even its flock of injuries, Tennessee is favored over a North Carolina team that hasn't reached its full potential.

Princeton over Brown: The nation's longest current winning streak goes to 19, unless Princeton has spent all week relieving that tremendous victory over Cornell.

Baylor over Texas Christian: Larry Isbell, the Baylor star, is just as good as he needs to be. That should pull the Baylors through.

Notre Dame over Navy: The Irish may be predominately freshmen and sophomores but they know their way around, especially if their playground is a foolball field.

Alabama over Georgia: Two of the season's biggest disappointments try to salvage something.

Wisconsin over Indiana: Wisconsin boasts the strongest defense in the nation and Bob Robertson, one of Indiana's best backs, just has been drafted by Uncle Sam.

Texas over Southern Methodist: This should be every bit as good as last year's 23 to 20 thriller, won by Texas.

Georgia Tech over Duke: That defensive platoon of the Georgians is a beauty.

Maryland over Missouri: Maryland seems headed for the Sugar Bowl and this season Missouri hasn't been headed anywhere.

California over UCLA: California is a two-touchdown favorite but it could be much, much closer.

Southern California over Army: If the Trojans "want" this game it could become a young massacre.

Silsbys, Accord Win In Y League

Silsby Motors stalled the Accord Chevies, 49-37, and Esopus Firemen survived a last quarter threat by the "50" Club to win 57-55 in last night's Y Autumn League basketball games.

The Motormen moved away in the stretch after leading 29-26 at the three-quarter mark. Rundle scored 16 points and Dederick had 11 for the winners. Ebert's 11 topped the Chevies.

The "50" Club trailed Silsby's by 12 points at the start of the fourth quarter but abandoned their defensive tactics to close the gap to two points at the finish.

Overamphasis on defense forced the "50" Club into numerous fouls and that's what cost them the ball game. They outscored the Firemen, 26-20, from the field but a 17-3 margin in foul conversions accounted for the Esopus triumph.

Wilson paced Esopus with 18 points and Burger scored 11. Daley and Burris scored 15 and 14 respectively for the "50" Club.

Louis Fadeout Still in Doubt

New York, Nov 1 (AP)—Admitting that he has come to "a turn in the road," ex-heavyweight champion Joe Louis wants more time to think over his future plans.

Louis issued a statement yesterday—apparnetly prompted by the action of the Illinois Athletic Commission which said it would not permit him to fight in that state—asking the public to "bear with me while I think out my future plans."

The statement said nothing about retiring, a move which has been predicted freely by those close to the old Brown Bomber after his knockout by Rocky Marciano last week. They still think, though, that he never will fight again.

"Many people," he said, "undoubtedly kindly disposed and in all good will, have had varied opinions on my future."

But, he said he would make no definite announcement until his return from an exhibition tour of Japan. He is scheduled to leave for Seattle on the first leg of the trip on Nov. 10.

National Boxing Association Commissioner Abe Greene is on the 37-year-old veteran's side.

"I think he is entitled to take a little time to make up his mind," said Greene, "in deference to the fact that he laways has been a fellow with good taste. When and if Joe does something contrary to good taste, then we should be ready to do something about it."

Robinson Blasts Birdie for Speech

San Antonio, Tex., Nov 1 (AP)—Jackie Robinson doesn't like that blast Birdie Tebbetts put on Brooklyn manager Chuck Dressen in the Erv Palica case.

Dressen publicly charged Palica with being gutless and Tebbetts, Cleveland Indians catcher, yesterday criticized him for it.

"Did Tebbetts ever play for Dressen?" Robinson, Brooklyn second baseman in San Antonio on a barnstorming tour, asked. "Of course, Tebbetts didn't. If he had played for him, Tebbetts never would have talked like he did.

TOP DEFENSIVE MAN

Frank McPhee (above), of Princeton, is this week's defensive lineman of the week in The Associated Press poll. He was named for his play in the Tigers' stunning 53-15 defeat of Cornell Oct. 27.

Former Colonial League Operator Reported Interested in IL Team

Louis Baselice, former operator of the Poughkeepsie Chiefs in the defunct Colonial League, has projected himself into the movement to bring big time baseball back to Newark, the Associated Press reports.

Newark lost its International League franchise a couple of years ago to Springfield, Mass. The New York Yankees sold the Newark franchise and territorial rights to the Chicago Cubs who installed the team in Springfield.

Baselice, a wealthy scrap iron dealer, who was a key figure in the unsuccessful attempts to keep the Colonial League alive, looked over Ruppert Stadium yesterday and said he wanted to buy the New York Giants' Ottawa franchise and bring it to Newark. He was accompanied on the inspection tour by Frank J. Shaughnessy, president of the International League, and Wilbur Grelin, former business manager of the Bears.

Charlie Stoneham, general manager of the Ottawa Giants, said that Baseliee's offer was under consideration. Reached at Eatontown, Stoneham said the deal still was speculative and that it was improbable any definite move would be made for at least 10 days or two weeks.

Louis Fadeout Still in Doubt

New York, Nov 1 (AP)—Admitting that he has come to "a turn in the road," ex-heavyweight champion Joe Louis wants more time to think over his future plans.

Louis issued a statement yesterday—apparnetly prompted by the action of the Illinois Athletic Commission which said it would not permit him to fight in that state—asking the public to "bear with me while I think out my future plans."

The statement said nothing about retiring, a move which has been predicted freely by those close to the old Brown Bomber after his knockout by Rocky Marciano last week. They still think, though, that he never will fight again.

"Many people," he said, "undoubtedly kindly disposed and in all good will, have had varied opinions on my future."

But, he said he would make no definite announcement until his return from an exhibition tour of Japan. He is scheduled to leave for Seattle on the first leg of the trip on Nov. 10.

National Boxing Association Commissioner Abe Greene is on the 37-year-old veteran's side.

"I think he is entitled to take a little time to make up his mind," said Greene, "in deference to the fact that he laways has been a fellow with good taste. When and if Joe does something contrary to good taste, then we should be ready to do something about it."

Robinson Blasts Birdie for Speech

San Antonio, Tex., Nov 1 (AP)—Jackie Robinson doesn't like that blast Birdie Tebbetts put on Brooklyn manager Chuck Dressen in the Erv Palica case.

Dressen publicly charged Palica with being gutless and Tebbetts, Cleveland Indians catcher, yesterday criticized him for it.

"Did Tebbetts ever play for Dressen?" Robinson, Brooklyn second baseman in San Antonio on a barnstorming tour, asked. "Of course, Tebbetts didn't. If he had played for him, Tebbetts never would have talked like he did.

TOP DEFENSIVE MAN

Frank McPhee (above), of Princeton, is this week's defensive lineman of the week in The Associated Press poll. He was named for his play in the Tigers' stunning 53-15 defeat of Cornell Oct. 27.

Former Colonial League Operator Reported Interested in IL Team

Louis Baselice, former operator of the Poughkeepsie Chiefs in the defunct Colonial League, has projected himself into the movement to bring big time baseball back to Newark, the Associated Press reports.

Newark lost its International League franchise a couple of years ago to Springfield, Mass. The New York Yankees sold the Newark franchise and territorial rights to the Chicago Cubs who installed the team in Springfield.

Baselice, a wealthy scrap iron dealer, who was a key figure in the unsuccessful attempts to keep the Colonial League alive, looked over Ruppert Stadium yesterday and said he wanted to buy the New York Giants' Ottawa franchise and bring it to Newark. He was accompanied on the inspection tour by Frank J. Shaughnessy, president of the International League, and Wilbur Grelin, former business manager of the Bears.

Charlie Stoneham, general manager of the Ottawa Giants, said that Baselice's offer was under consideration. Reached at Eatontown, Stoneham said the deal still was speculative and that it was improbable any definite move would be made for at least 10 days or two weeks.

National MVP Award Goes to Campanella

New York, Nov. 1 (AP)—Roy Campanela will always remember 1591.

Throughout the year the husky, hard-hitting catcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers was hampered by injuries, but now Campanella has reaped the fruits of his labors. He was named yesterday as the National League's most valuable player for the past season by a 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

Campanella is only the third catcher since 1931 to win the coveted award. The other receivers to gain the honor were Gabby Hartnett of the 1935 Chicago Cubs and Ernie Lombari of the 1938 Cincinnati Reds.

The 29-year-old Dodger star collected 243 points out of a possible 336 to win in a breeze. Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals, winning his fifth batting title with a .355 average, finished second with 191 points.

Star Is Elated

Campanella, reached in Houston where his all-star exhibition team is stopping was surprised when informed that he had won the award.

"I had forgotten all about that award," he said. "After we were beaten in the playoff by the New York Giants, I just didn't think about it any more."

"I surely am happy about it now. I gave my best and I surely am grateful to the Baseball Writers' Association for voting me in."

Campanella's selection marked the sixth time since 1931 that a player not on a pennant winner won the award. The others were, Chuck Klein, Philadelphia, 1932; Ducky Medwick, St. Louis, 1937; Lombardi, Cincinnati, 1938; Bob Elliott, Boston, 1947 and Musial, St. Louis, 1948.

The star backstop drew 11 first place votes while Musial, only player named on every ballot, collected two. Trailing Musial were, Monte Irvin, New York, third, Sal Maglie, New York, fourth, Preacher Roe, Brooklyn, fifth, Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn, sixth, Richie Ashburn, Philadelphia, seventh, Boby Thomson, New York, eighth, Murry Dickson, Pittsburgh, ninth and Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh, tenth.

Some 58 players received votes of honorable mention but Jim Konstanty, Philadelphia's relief pitcher and the 1950 winner failed to draw either a vote or honorable mention.

Had Great Year

Campanella enjoyed a great season despite his series of injuries. The collapse of the Dodgers who blew a 13½ game lead and lost the pennant to the Giants in a playoff, was no fault of Roy's

The well liked receiver's injury string began last January when an oil-burner in his home exploded and nearly blinded him. Campanella suffered a slight fracture of his right thumb during spring training.

During the season he was spiked on the hand, had arm trouble and was hit on the head by a pitched ball by Chicago's Turk Lown. On the final day of the regular season Campanella pulled a muscle in his left thigh and caught only the first of the three playoff games against the Giants.

Despite these injuries Campanella played in 140 games. He batted .325, fourth highest in the league, drove in 108 runs and poled 33 home runs.

Motorists Getting Worse

Denver (AP)—A man who has driven a million miles on Colorado highways in 25 years says roads and automobiles are improving, but motorists are getting worse. George C. Walker retired this year as chauffeur for Colorado's highway engineer. "Drivers have got faster cars and they get impatient," he said. "They always want to get ahead of somebody. It's no wonder they have accidents."

Don't Buy 'Freaks'

Chicago (AP)—The prospective home buyer should beware of houses built at high cost with "freak" features, H. L. Cunliffe writes in the current issue of The Review of the Society of Residential Appraisers. There are two main reasons the house with very unusual and expensive features is not a good buy, he says: Mortgage values are based on the "typical" buyer; the resale value of a house may be extremely low if its unusual features are designed for the tastes of only one or a few persons.

Singapore (AP) — The docks in Singapore handled the biggest turnover of cargo in their history in the year ended June 30, 1951. The total was 4,947,272 tons loaded and discharged. During the first six months of 1951, imports were 17 per cent and exports 15 per cent more than in the corresponding period of 1950.

It's no wonder they have accidents."

Top GOP Leaders Consider Reapportionment Plan

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 1 (AP)—Top Republican leaders were huddling here this afternoon on what may be the final version of a plan to reapportion New York's 45 congressional districts into 43.

They were meeting (2 p. m.) with State Chairman William L. Pfeiffer at GOP state headquarters.

Governor Dewey is expected to call a special session of the Republican-controlled legislature soon to enact the redistricting program, which has caused controversy in GOP circles.

Among those here for the meeting were Lt. Gov. Frank C. Moore, Majority Leader Arthur H. Wicks of the state Senate, and Speaker Oswald D. Heck of the Assembly.

J. Russel Sprague, Nassau county chairman; Thomas J. Curran, Manhattan leader, and Queens Chairman Frank R. Kenna also were expected to participate.

Tentative plans call for elimination of two congressional seats in Democratic-dominated New York city and the present 37th District, which is represented by Republican Edwin Arthur Hall. Nassau county would gain a second House seat under the plan.

Other districts in New York city and upstate apparently will be altered to include more Republican strength in those that sometimes elect Democratic congressmen.

However, one influential Republican said the present 32nd District, controlled by the O'Donnell Democratic organization of Albany county, would not be wiped out, as some GOP chairmen have proposed. This seat is held by Rep. William T. Byrne of Loudonville.

To comply with the population ratio per district, the 32nd may be expanded to include a larger section of Troy and Rensselaer county that now lies within its boundaries.

Forty Soviet-made jet fighters fought for 10 minutes Thursday with 24 American Thunderjets on a rail cutting mission in northwest Korea. The air force said nobody got hurt.

UN war planes shot down 33 Red jets in October—an all time record for one month—Far East Air Forces (FEAF) announced. Twelve others porbably were destroyed and 61 damaged.

Allies Lose 40 Planes

The allies lost a total of 40 planes, mostly to antiaircract guns. Red jets shot down nine. They included four B-29s, two F-86 Sabre jets, two F-84 Thunderjets, and one unarmed RF-80 reconnaissance jet.

This brought total announced fear combat losses for the entire war to 356. Of these, 37 were shot down in air combat, 313 were brought down by ground fire, and six were destroyed on the ground by Red planes.

Since Red jets entered the war last November 132 have been destroyed, 47 probably destroyed and 244 damaged in jet battles, FEAF said.

On the ground, the U. S. 8th Army's Thursday evening communique reported only three light Red probing attacks, and a successful allied raid. The Communist attacks were beaten off during the night—two in the Korangpo area of the western front east of Kaesong, and one near the punchbowl in the east.

A tank raid Wednesday near Kansong on the east coast cost the allies two tanks and two tanks retrievers.

ammunition dumps were exploded.

Forty Soviet-made jet fighters fought for 10 minutes Thursday with 24 American Thunderjets on a rail cutting mission in northwest Korea. The air force said nobody got hurt.

UN war planes shot down 33 Red jets in October—an all time record for one month—Far East Air Forces (FEAF) announced. Twelve others porbably were destroyed and 61 damaged.

Allies Lose 40 Planes

The allies lost a total of 40 planes, mostly to antiaircract guns. Red jets shot down nine. They included four B-29s, two F-86 Sabre jets, two F-84 Thunderjets, and one unarmed RF-80 reconnaissance jet.

This brought total announced fear combat losses for the entire war to 356. Of these, 37 were shot down in air combat, 313 were brought down by ground fire, and six were destroyed on the ground by Red planes.

Since Red jets entered the war last November 132 have been destroyed, 47 probably destroyed and 244 damaged in jet battles, FEAF said.

On the ground, the U. S. 8th Army's Thursday evening communique reported only three light Red probing attacks, and a successful allied raid. The Communist attacks were beaten off during the night—two in the Korangpo area of the western front east of Kaesong, and one near the punchbowl in the east.

A tank raid Wednesday near Kansong on the east coast cost the allies two tanks and two tanks retrievers.

"The results, when analyzed and tabulated, should have considerable effect upon army doctrine, training and military education."

Station Master Held

Landshut, Germany, Nov. 1 (AP)—The German station master at Mirskofen was arrested today in connection with a troop train collision yesterday in which one American soldier and a German engineer were killed. Twenty-nine others—21 U. S. soldiers and eight Germans—were injured in the accident, the most serious involving U. S. troops in Germany since the war. The train crashed at high speed into the rear of a work train. Railway authorities said the investigation of the crash had not yet been completed.

Plant to Reopen

Tehran, Iran, Nov. 1 (AP)—Hossein Maki, chief aid to Premier Mossadegh in Iran's oil nationalization program, says the world's largest refinery, at Abadan—shut down for weeks because of Iran's quarrel with Britain over its ownership—will reopen Sunday. The Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, which owned the refinery, closed it because its storage tanks were filled and Iranian restrictions on tanker loadings prevented movement of refined products. The shutdown followed passage of an Iranian law to take over ownership of the Anglo-Iranian Companys' installations.

To Return for Conferences

Washington, Nov. 1 (AP)—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower is flying home this weekend for conferences with President Truman and other top ranking officials. The White House in announcing this today, said the general is returning for talks Monday and Tuesday to cover matters affecting his supreme allied command and the North Atlantic defense setup. He will leave Paris at 10 p. m. (Paris time) Friday and spend the weekend at Fort Knox, Ky., with his son, Capt. John Eisenhower. He will confer with the President and other administration leaders Monday and Tuesday, holding some of the conferences at the White House.

Discuss Political Platforms

A symposium on political platforms was held at B'nai B'rith building last night, when Attorney Bernard A. Culloton (left) former city judge, presented the Democratic party side; Herman Eaton, local insurance representative, acted as moderator, and City Clerk Bernhardt S. Kramer, discussed Republican policies. (Freeman photo).

Land Reform

Kuala Lumpur, Malaya (AP)—Food production in the Federation of Malaya may increase through land reform measures coming up before the government. The proposal is to provide suitable land tenure to farmers, thus guaranteeing them greater security. At present more than 75 percent of farmers till land belonging to owners who may, if they wish, take back the land for other purposes. Proposed legislature will aim at fixing land rents and granting permanent titles to tenants on farm lands.

For his concoction of a white soup, William the Conqueror presented his cook with a manor house.

Council Says . . .

Christian Churches urged a Protestant protest pilgrimage to Washington.

The council, which claims a membership of 3,000 churches, called for a pilgrimage next Jan. 24. The proposal was made in a resolution by delegates representing 14 Protestant denominations at their tenth annual national convention.

The Washington pilgrims would visit their senators and send a delegation to President Truman, according to the Rev. W. W. Breckbill, of Altoona, Pa., general superintendent of the Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The board's statement in New York said the group was "especially distressed" by reports that President Truman, during a news conference, said "This is a time to fight it out" on the Vatican issue.

The statement added:

"It is normal and wholesome in a democracy to 'fight it out' on political issues. But this is different. Religious convictions lie deeper than politics."

The board rejected major arguments advanced in support of the President's proposal. One of these was that diplomatic relations with the Vatican are needed to gain access to its sources of information on the world Communist movement.

On this point the council said: "If both parties desire that all resources of information be utilized and coordinated against communism, this can be achieved through our ambassador to the government of Italy."

CIO Has Plan . . .

had been a strike over jurisdiction between two or more CIO unions. He classed the problem as a minor one, but said the CIO is determined to "keep our family quarrels off the streets.

The unions, morally and legally bound by the past, agreed not to make "derogatory statements" about each other while organization drives are on involving them.

"There will be no slander," Murray told reporters.

Murray said the CIO program might serve as a pattern for settling the troublesome differences often arising between the AFL craft unions. But he added: "Experience alone will tell whether it is good."

Preparatory to next week's convention, committees will work through the weekend. The executive board of the Political Action Committee (PAC) will meet here tomorrow. Director Jack Kroll said the session would be routine.

Secretary-Treasurer James B. Carey reported to the CIO board that the CIO has more than 5,000,000 members and has $1,750,000 in cash and bonds — the highest amount of liquid assets in its recent history.

Land Reform

Kuala Lumpur, Malaya (AP)—Food production in the Federation of Malaya may increase through land reform measures coming up before the government. The proposal is to provide suitable land tenure to farmers, thus guaranteeing them greater security. At present more than 75 percent of farmers till land belonging to owners who may, if they wish, take back the land for other purposes. Proposed legislature will aim at fixing land rents and granting permanent titles to tenants on farm lands.

Council Says . . .

Christian Churches urged a Protestant protest pilgrimage to Washington.

The council, which claims a membership of 3,000 churches, called for a pilgrimage next Jan. 24. The proposal was made in a resolution by delegates representing 14 Protestant denominations at their tenth annual national convention.

The Washington pilgrims would visit their senators and send a delegation to President Truman, according to the Rev. W. W. Breckbill, of Altoona, Pa., general superintendent of the Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The board's statement in New York said the group was "especially distressed" by reports that President Truman, during a news conference, said "This is a time to fight it out" on the Vatican issue.

The statement added:

"It is normal and wholesome in a democracy to 'fight it out' on political issues. But this is different. Religious convictions lie deeper than politics."

The board rejected major arguments advanced in support of the President's proposal. One of these was that diplomatic relations with the Vatican are needed to gain access to its sources of information on the world Communist movement.

On this point the council said: "If both parties desire that all resources of information be utilized and coordinated against communism, this can be achieved through our ambassador to the government of Italy."

CIO Has Plan . . .

had been a strike over jurisdiction between two or more CIO unions. He classed the problem as a minor one, but said the CIO is determined to "keep our family quarrels off the streets.

The unions, morally and legally bound by the past, agreed not to make "derogatory statements" about each other while organization drives are on involving them.

"There will be no slander," Murray told reporters.

Murray said the CIO program might serve as a pattern for settling the troublesome differences often arising between the AFL craft unions. But he added: "Experience alone will tell whether it is good."

Preparatory to next week's convention, committees will work through the weekend. The executive board of the Political Action Committee (PAC) will meet here tomorrow. Director Jack Kroll said the session would be routine.

Secretary-Treasurer James B. Carey reported to the CIO board that the CIO has more than 5,000,000 members and has $1,750,000 in cash and bonds — the highest amount of liquid assets in its recent history.
